Spring Is Approaching And Stores Here Are Ready with Welcome

Spring is just around the corner... and don't let this raw March weather fool you.

Old Man Winter is just having his final fling.

Spring will make its official entrance next week and the merchants of Washington C. H. have been getting a welcome ready for months.

Most of the stores today are pulling back the curtains for their spring opening... the show that every winter-weary man, woman and child looks forward to after months of bleak cold weather.

It won't be long now until the breath of spring fills the air, and when it does, who is there who won't want to be ready to catch the spirit of the season?

The Easter parade is the traditional time for humans to blossom out in their spring finery.

Knowing that, the store proprietors and managers here have laid out an amazing assortment of just the things that will be wanted and needed.

They started months ago selecting the latest in styles so the people of Fayette County would be in step with the world.

No one was forgotten; from the tiniest tot to grandpa and grandma, there is something in the stores that will help them usher in spring appropriately.

And come Easter—March 25—it's a foregone conclusion that nothing short of a blizzard could keep them out of the parade.

THE STORES THAT HAVE made the big preparations for helping the folks welcome spring are carrying more detailed messages in their advertisements in today's Record-Herald.

They tell in detail what they have that you will want and need to be in style. There is so much, it could not all be summed up any other way; so read those advertisements and, with their help, start making your plans for the glorious spring days ahead.

The spring openings are not limited to personal apparel, either. Spring comes to the home, both inside and out, as well. It will need its new attire and its new accessories too—a coat of paint, some walls brightened with new paper, some fresh furnishings or the latest thing in furniture to replace some of the old stuff.

The family automobile has not been forgotten either. Automobile dealers are ready to give them the "new look" with a fresh paint job or a general overhaul for those long drives that go with spring and summer.

Styles and fashions for spring are not spectacular. Changes have been made right down the line and while they are not drastic, they are big enough to make the new things stand out as new and often the old stand out as old.

Store managements have spent a lot of time, talent, effort and money to bring to the people of this community the things they will want to keep in step this spring. Now they have it all out for their spring openings. Their advertisements in today's Record-Herald are their messages for you.

Disappointment Likely In Food Price Control

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—Food price ceilings are due this week. The rollback that housewives have been praying for seems most unlikely. But Washington hopes that some prices will drop anyway.

Food retailers are assured that prices are to be left flexible. The plan, as dealers here understand it, calls for retailers and wholesalers to be given specific mark-ups for each class of food. They must keep to this percentage in pricing their food from now on. But these mark-up percentages can be applied to each new batch of food the retailer or wholesaler buys, so that if he has to pay more for his supplies he can ask you to pay more for your food.

This leaves the way open for price hikes on processed foods that reflect the high prices of foodstuffs last month, before the turn-around in some primary food prices. Washington hopes that these more recent price dips in some items will be reflected later on in declining prices at the grocery.

Headache Over Meat

Meat prices are in a class by themselves these days. And the government is tackling that problem a little differently, since many livestock prices are above parity -- the point where price controllers can legally step in.

Ceiling prices in dollars and cents are to be set on pork products. (Please turn to Page Six)

Two Ohio Lepers Taken to Hospital

COLUMBUS, Mar. 13—(AP)—Ernest Goolsby, Ohio Penitentiary convict, and Mechor Cortez, of Port Clinton--both leprosy cases--were flown Saturday to the U. S. Marine Hospital at Carville, La. the state department of health said today.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche commuted Goolsby's one to 20-year sentence so he could receive treatment. Cortez, a native Texan of Mexican extraction, had his case diagnosed as leprosy in mid-February, but was allowed to remain at his home in Ottawa County.

Former Gov. Folsom of Alabama Link with Convict Shakedown

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 13—(AP)—Testimony linking former Gov. James E. Folsom to reports of a $1,000 payoff gave a startling turn today to an investigation of the recent wholesale release of convicts.

The story was told by a state employee yesterday to a legislative committee which is looking into pardon and parole activities during the closing months of the Folsom administration. It also involved Folsom-appointed Bill Drinkard and Glenn Vinson, who dominated the parole board for 15½ months before they went out of office along with Folsom on Jan. 15.

More than 1,600 paroles and 350 outright pardons were granted (Please turn to Page Ten)

Driver Hurt But Survives Crash Here

Russell E. Fuller, 25, of Chillicothe, was seriously injured about 8:25 P. M. Monday, when his careening car, reportedly traveling at great speed, smashed into the rear of a heavily loaded coal truck at the corner of South Fayette and Ohio Avenue.

Spectators had to work for almost 15 minutes to extricate Fuller from his car, crushed in by the heavy impact.

He was rushed by the Gerstner ambulance to Memorial Hospital, where his condition Tuesday was described by hospital attaches as "fair."

City police and highway patrolmen, who checked the accident and directed traffic, said Fuller's (Please turn to Page Ten)

Draft Bill Slowed By Companion Issue

WASHINGTON, March 13—(AP)—The House armed services committee drove today toward approval of a broad new military manpower bill, with Republicans keeping mum about plans to attach to it the troops-for-Europe issue.

Rep. Arends of Illinois, an assistant GOP leader and a member of the committee, was waiting with a resolution to bar the commitment of U. S. troops to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's western European defense force unless Congress gives it approval in advance.

The committee, "without objection," as Vinson phrased it, approved drafting men at 18½ years--instead of 19, as now--and extension of draftees' service from the present 21 months to 26. A bill the Senate passed Friday would lower the draft age to 18 and extend service to 24 months.

The committee also turned down attempts by Rep. Cole (R-NY) and Rep. Rivers (D-SC) to up the top age limit, now 25. Cole wanted it raised to 35 years and Rivers to 31.

Man, 82, Drowns

POMEROY, March 13—(AP)—George T. Henderson, 82, of Burlington, drowned yesterday in the west branch of Shade River near his home. He apparently had gone fishing, and slipped on a muddy bank.

Truck Weight Protest Is Made by Group Here

Fayette County is beginning to raise its voice in protest against extensive damage to highways and roads throughout this county and elsewhere in the state by heavy trucks.

Request for immediate helpful action, within the limits of the law, will go to the Ohio's director of highways this week.

It will be in the form of an appeal from representative citizens of this county for the state highway department to take prompt steps toward mitigating this damage, which is continuing, due to the pounding most highways are receiving from big trucks. Too many of these are overloaded, it is contended.

A committee representing many complainants among residents of this city and county, Monday asked Howard Allen, secretary of the Fayette County Automobile Club, to present to the state highway director some evidence of the feeling among a majority of taxpayers and citizens in this county that some immediate official effort should be made to order trucks to reduce their loads; also to set up sufficient additional weighing stations along highways to aid enforcement of the order.

Seeking Immediate Action

This committee declares that not only have the roads and highways of this county suffered heavily in the past several months of bad weather, but the damage is continuing to a point where many roads and highways will require much more repair expense than usual.

The citizens who are remonstrating state that they understand this action would not be a remedy for the overall difficulty, nor would it be a permanent cure-all (Please turn to Page Three)

Materials for War On Wrecked Ship

HONOLULU, March 13—(AP)—Crewmen today tried to pump out flooded holds of the wrecked freighter Andrea F. Luckenbach to salvage $15,000,000 worth of war material and 5,000 bags of mail for military personnel in Korea.

All five passengers and 45 crewmen were saved when the 1,170-ton freighter tore her bottom on a reef off Kauai, one of the Hawaiian Islands, Sunday night in a rainstorm.

A skeleton crew of 13 remained with the cargo ship. The Luckenbach was towed a few miles toward Hanalei Bay, but went aground again. Coast Guard vessels stood by.

At Lihue, Kauai, Crewman Mitchell Hensen said the ship was taking tanks, plane wings, engines, combat rations and mail from Oakland, Calif., to Yokohama for reshipment to Korea.

Senate Committee
Is 'Told Off' by Frank Costello

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—Gambler Frank Costello today challenged Senate crime investigators to produce evidence he runs a national crime syndicate.

The committee has accused Costello in recent reports of ruling such an organization.

Demanding, in effect, that the committee put up or shut up, Costello said through his attorney: "I am a witness and not a defendant."

He said he wanted to see the evidence, and then have a chance to make "proper reply."

Sen. Charles Tobey (R-N. H.) interrupted to say he believed the committee has heard adequate testimony to support a claim to deport the Italian-born Costello from the United States.

The senator said Costello's alleged 1925 falsification of a naturalization application was sufficient grounds to annul his citizenship. He said the gambler's admitted bootlegging activities in the prohibition era provided additional grounds for deportation.

Dressed immaculately in a blue suit and maroon tie, the suave, reputed underworld leader took his place under the television lights beside his attorney, George Wolf.

Puts On Good Show

The crowded room in the federal court house became perceptibly tense as Costello entered. In his statement, he charged that (Please turn to Page Two)

More A-bomb Tests Hinted in Prospect

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13—(AP)—New tests with U. S. atomic weapons far out at sea or dropped from airplanes at places other than the testing sites used up to now may be in prospect.

A broad hint of this comes from the Atomic Energy Commission itself.

This developed out of an AEC news conference yesterday at which a reporter asked, in connection with the recent experimental explosions at the Nevada proving ground, whether there will be other tests. To this, Chairman Gordon Dean answered: "We have some tests coming a long later on."

Would he mention possible sites? "You see, there is always the possibility you could take one (atomic weapon) out in the middle of the ocean, or roll one out in a plane," Dean replied. "I don't want to pinpoint it."

In addition to Eniwetok and the range near Las Vegas, Nev., post-war tests of atomic bombs have been made at Bikini atoll in the Pacific. But Dean's answers seemed to suggest broadly that experiments at quite different places and perhaps under different conditions might be in prospect.

14 Red Officers Reported Executed

BERLIN, March 13—(AP)—A published report that 14 Soviet officers had been executed in the Russian zone of Germany for plotting against Stalin was described by Allied and East German sources today as "highly doubtful."

Allied intelligence officers said the report of the executions and wholesale arrests last month among Red army garrisons stationed in Germany "is extremely unlikely."

They added that such incidents would have reached their informants "by now."

Snow Covers Southwest Ohio As Winter Still in Midwest

(By The Associated Press)
Winter whirled into parts of the sunny southland today, putting a deep freeze over fresh bubbling spring. Snow, sleet and cold hit areas in the central and western gulf states as a batch of icy weather moved in from the north-central region.

More snow fell in the mid-continent. The late winter storm blocked scores of roads, disrupted

Benita's Coat Stinks; She Says So Herself As Police Return It

HOLLYWOOD, March 13—(AP)—Benita Hume's mink stinks. "It smells pretty awful, in fact," she said yesterday when police returned it to her, but she was glad to get it back anyway.

Miss Hume, wife of actor Ronald Colman, identified the coat at a preliminary hearing for Harold Goodfellow, 28. He is charged with taking the coat from her NBC studio dressing room Jan. 17.

Goodfellow was arrested last month in a Phoenix, Ariz., hotel room. There was no explanation of the coat's odor.

Russian Embassy In Mexico City Spy Nest, Claim

Espionage Trial
Brings to Light
Amazing Story

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—The Russian embassy in Mexico City was pictured in the atom spy trial today as being ready to aid spies fleeing the United States to avoid arrest.

David Greenglass, 29, a confessed spy who was employed on the atom bomb project at Los Alamos, N. M., said his brother-in-law, Julius Rosenberg, gave him elaborate instructions for contacting the Russian ambassador in Mexico.

Rosenberg, 33, an electrical engineer, is on trial with his wife, Ethel, 35, and radar expert Morton Sobell, 33, on charges of conspiring to spy for Russia in wartime. The charges carry a possible death penalty.

Greenglass returned to the witness stand today after relating yesterday that less than a month after the first atom bomb was dropped on Hiroshima he gave Rosenberg plans for a later-model bomb.

He said Rosenberg tried several times to get him to flee the United States. (Please turn to Page Two)

May Be Amateurs But They Got Away With Bank Robbery

COLUMBUS, Mar. 13—(AP)—Police today rated the two men who robbed the Kinkersville Savings Bank as rank amateurs at that type of holdup.

The pair escaped with $180 yesterday morning shortly before the bank was due to open. Later they escaped police who had set up a roadblock near the eastern limits of Columbus by wheeling around and outracing a police car.

Police said experienced bank robbers would have picked an hour when the time lock on the bank vault was open.

One Kinkersville bandit met the bank treasurer as he was coming to work at 8:35 A. M., EST, made him go inside and open the vault door.

When he learned the time lock wouldn't open until later, he scooped up $180 from cash drawers and fled to a car where his companion was waiting.

Unruly Elephant Is Put to Death

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—Chang, a bad-tempered elephant, was put to death at the Central Park Zoo early today.

The 25-year-old, three-ton bull elephant had become increasingly unruly over the past six years. "Nobody could work with him," a zoo official said.

Chang had been at the zoo 23 years.

Reinforcements
Of Commies Are Seen Coming Up

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, March 13—(AP)—American troops stormed back into Yudong today and wrested control of the village from a battalion of Chinese Reds.

Yudong is 11 miles southeast of Hongchon and less than three miles southwest of a Chinese concentration area.

A U. S. second division patrol first entered the town Monday night but withdrew after a brief fire fight.

Elsewhere along the 70-mile front United Nations forces were chasing strangely elusive Chinese and North Korean soldiers back toward the 38th parallel.

Probing spearheads of three Allied columns closing in on Hongchon were within 25 miles of the old boundary between North and South Korea.

In the assault on Yudong the doughboys first smashed a road block half a mile south of the village. Then they stormed ahead despite mortar, automatic weapons and small arms fire.

At the same time fifth air force fighter-bombers blasted the Red concentration area to the northeast.

Reds Just Vanish

Further east U. S. seventh division patrols searched the countryside in a vain search for Communist strongholds.

One patrol found a roadblock but no enemy troops. Another patrol bumped into about 12 Communist west of Amidong. Five Reds were killed and the others (Please turn to Page Two)

School Head Killed By Rebuked Youths

RUTHERFORDTON, N. C., Mar. 13—(AP)—Two students who became angry over a scolding killed their superintendent and a school chum last night, Sheriff Vance Wilkins reported.

He said Billy Ray Powell, 16, and Hugh Justice, 19, are in jail and will be charged with murder. They admitted shooting Prof. W. E. Sweatt and Wade Johnson, 15, the sheriff added. Powell and Johnson were roommates.

The sheriff gave this account: Prof. Sweatt, head of Alexander School at nearby Union Mills, summoned Powell and Justice to his office and reprimanded them about their grades. They became angry and borrowed a .22 single-shot rifle. They lay in wait for the superintendent and as he locked his office door Justice shot him. The two youths fled and found Johnson. Powell shot him after accusing him at tattling about an infraction of rules.

Alexander is a privately endowed boarding school. It is co-educational and has students from six to 19 years of age.

4 Boys on Raft Drown in Bog

MEDFORD, Mass., March 13—(AP)—Four young boys were carried to their deaths yesterday on a flimsy, makeshift raft. A fifth boy was saved.

They drowned in an isolated bog opposite Oak Grove Cemetery as one by one they fell off the raft into the water.

The survivor, Gilbert Mason, 9, George's brother, told police:

"The raft started to fall to pieces and one after another we fell overboard. The water was icy cold. They went under one after the other."

Gilbert said he hung onto the raft and screamed and remembered nothing more until he woke up in a hospital.

His screams were heard by a neighbor who ran to the bog with a rope and pulled him ashore.

Greenfield Man Named Vet Bonus Fund Head

COLUMBUS, March 13—(AP)—W. F. Woodmansee of Greenfield is the new director of the World War II compensation fund which pays bonuses to Ohio ex-GIs. He was named yesterday to succeed T. Blaine Holloway of Columbus, who resigned. Some 166 World War II bonus claims are pending.

Tax Collections Total $420,000

Books Closed But Payments Come In

Up to the close of business Monday evening County Treasurer Charles Fabb had collected a total of $420,072.82 in real estate taxes. Additional payments were still arriving by belated mail, to boost the total.

Fabb had estimated the present collection would total $425,000, and indications are that this figure will be reached.

The books closed as of Saturday noon.

The total charge for the half or present collection, was about $315,000 and the total charge for the year was $618,000, Fabb said.

Work of clearing up the collection is now under way at the treasurer's office.

Costello at Probe

The committee had named him as a national arch-criminal in a report prepared before he even appeared at an executive session of the group previously.

Yielding to Costello's request, the committee agreed not to televise his appearance. All of the open hearing yesterday was televised. Costello protested this would make him a "spectacle" and deprive him of the right of counsel-client privacy.

His appearance came shortly after a deputy New York attorney general had testified that he was introduced to underworld chieftain, Joe Adonis by former Mayor William O'Dwyer and others.

Jerome G. Ambro, taking the witness stand as the second day of the committee's New York public hearings opened, said when he met Costello, O'Dwyer and other prominent men were present.

Ambro, one-time under-sheriff of Kings County (Brooklyn), said the others included state assembly Democratic Leader Irwin Steingut, former city fire commissioner Frank Quayle and the late Frank Kelly, former Brooklyn Democratic leader.

O'Dwyer, now ambassador to Mexico, is scheduled to appear at the hearings here Monday.

The introduction to Adonis, Ambro said, occurred at a Brooklyn restaurant operated by the reputed racketeer.

"I was then under-sheriff of Kings County and leader (Democratic) of the 19th assembly district," Ambro said.

The committee recently named Adonis, whose real name is Joseph Doto, as a lieutenant of big-shot gambler Frank Costello in ruling a major crime syndicate reaching from New York to New Orleans. Costello was slated to be the first witness today, but he showed up late, and Ambro was put on the stand. When Costello arrived, he was shuttled into an ante-room at the federal court house to await his turn.

Steel Mill Closed By Rail Slowdown

PITTSBURGH, March 13 —(P)—Government negotiators scheduled another meeting today to try to end a dispute which has shut off vital steel production at the big Pittsburgh works of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

The dispute is between the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Monongahela Connecting Railroad, a small line which serves the steel plant.

Jones and Laughlin furloughed nearly 12,000 workers yesterday. A spokesman said the shutdown was necessary because about 500 BRT members employed by the railroad engaged in a slowdown, "taking so long to throw switches and perform routine duties that it was no longer possible to operate the steel plant."

Surviving grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Newland of Sabina and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rowe of Jasper Mills.

Committal services will be held at 10 A. M. Wednesday at the White Oak Cemetery. Rev. Ray W. Huff of the Sabina Methodist Church will preside while the Littleton Funeral Home of Sabina is in charge of the arrangements.

A-bomb Spy Trial

States after learning of the arrest of Dr. Klaus Fuchs in England on espionage charges.

Greenglass said he ignored the advice, but that Rosenberg renewed the pressure after the arrest of Harry Gold, Philadelphia chemist, as a spy for Russia.

The witness had testified yesterday he had contacts with Gold. Greenglass said Rosenberg gave him $1,000, promised him $6,000 more, and gave him these instructions:

Go to Mexico City. Write to the Russian ambassador, sign the letter "I. Jackson." Say something in it favorable about the Soviet position in the United Nations.

Three days later go to the statue of Columbus with a travel guide. When a contact approaches, say "It is a magnificent statue. I am from Oklahoma."

The contact would reply there were more beautiful statues in Paris. The contact would give him money and a passport.

From Mexico City, he was to go to Vera Cruz. Thence to Sweden. In Stockholm, he was to follow the same procedure at the statue of Linnaeus and make contact with a man who would arrange transportation to Czechoslovakia.

In Czechoslovakia he was to write to the Soviet ambassador, this time signing his full name.

Greenglass said he was told to memorize the instructions and not to write them down.

Partly Imagination

The Greenglass atom bomb, a spy's idea of the real atom bomb, was based to the world today.

This Greenglass bomb is partly Rube Goldberg stuff and partly real. The real part was one of the most closely guarded secrets, until today. It is enough to tell any atom bomb-maker how to overcome some of his most serious difficulties.

The secrecy was lifted, but only temporarily, at the atom spy trial yesterday. No court record was kept. Reporters were told to use their judgment. Morning papers published extended accounts.

The secrets were shown in some sketches made by Greenglass, at Los Alamos, where he worked, and where all our atom bombs have been designed.

Reds were putting up only a show of rear-guard resistance.

Allies Suspicious

But Allied commanders were wary. They did not label the Red withdrawal a rout.

"We've got the enemy reeling back but he still isn't knocked out," said Maj. Gen. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, commanding the battle-tried U. S. Seventh Division.

Even as the Reds drew back from their front line positions their reinforcements were coming up from the rear.

More than 1,500 enemy trucks were spotted Monday night moving southward from North Korean bases. That was the largest number seen in two and one-half months.

Air observers also reported heavy Red vehicular traffic moving north from Seoul. Some sources suggested this indicated the Reds were pulling out of that rubbled South Korean capital.

Legion Commander Gives View on War

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 13 —(P)—The national commander of the American Legion today said the United States should permit the Chinese Nationalists to invade the Chinese mainland to ease pressure on Allied troops in Korea.

Americans fighting in Korea realize the value a landing on Red China would have, J. Erle Cooke, Jr., told a news conference.

He arrived today from Tokyo after a talk with General MacArthur and a two-day tour of Korean war fronts.

Cooke advocated U. S. aid for a Nationalist return to the mainland, from which President Chiang Kai-Shek was driven in 1949.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, March 13—(AP)—The time is near for payment of the first social security tax on people employed in non-farm homes and on farms.

This tax -- covering the quarterly period of January, February, March -- should be paid between April 1 and 30 by the housewife or farm owner.

What follows is for the benefit of those in both groups if they're uncertain about their case and need further information on what to do.

Starting Jan. 1, the new social security law covers domestic workers in non-farm homes and workers on farms -- if they fit the rules.

Not all will fit the rules and so are not covered. Since the rules are slightly different for both groups, they'll be handled separately here.

People (domestics) in non-farm homes:

Who are they: a cook, maid, gardener, chauffeur or even a baby sitter if he or she fits the rules covering domestic workers. What are the rules?

A domestic must have been employed at least 24 days by the same householder in a quarterly period and earned at least $50 in that quarter.

That's called the 24-50 test. The quarters are: January, February, March; April, May, June; July, August, September; October, November, December.

The tax must be paid in the month following each quarter. The total tax is 3 percent on the first $3,600 of a worker's pay. The employer pays 1 1/2 percent, the worker 1 1/2 percent.

The employer can pay all of it if she wishes. Otherwise, she deducts the 1 1/2 percent from the employee's pay, adds 1 1/2 percent of her own, and turns the total into the Internal Revenue collector for her district.

If you employ a domestic worker and are not sure what to do or even that you come under the law, you can do this:

Write to your nearest social security office and ask for a pamphlet, called "Do You Have a Maid?" This gives a lot of information.

If you learn from it that the law covers you, tear off the back which is a postcard and it, with your name, to the Internal Revenue Collector for your district. He's the one who collects your income tax.

Then he'll do two things:

1. He'll send you a more detailed pamphlet, called "Household Employer's Social Security Tax Guide."

2. Before the date of paying your tax -- in this case April 1 -- he'll send you a form 942 on which you make your return.

Farm workers:

Farm operators (this means farm owners and tenant farmers) don't come under social security but people who work regularly on farms do. This means a maid or cook in a farm home or a farmhand who works outside.

You come under the law:

1. If you work for the farmer a preliminary three-month period -- one full quarter -- and then at least 60 days, in the following quarter. Your social security credit starts with that second quarter.

2. And if you have been paid $50 in that quarter after the preliminary one. The tax on you is the same as on a domestic worker in a non-farm home: 3 percent on the first $3,600 of your pay.

The farm operator must turn this in every three months, at the end of a quarter, to the Internal Revenue Collector for his district. He puts up 1 1/2 percent, and takes 1 1/2 percent from your pay. He turns the total 3 percent in to the Internal Revenue Collector.

If you switch farmers, your social security coverage stops until you've worked for the new boss a preliminary quarter, plus at least 60 days out of the next quarter.

A farm operator who still doesn't know whether his particular case comes under the law, can do this:

He can get a pamphlet, called

Patching Work Moves Slowly

Market Street First on List

Street patching is moving forward slowly as the weather permits, and a great deal of work has been done on Market Street as well as on some other streets.

The worst places on the most important streets are being given attention first, it is indicated.

As the weather permits patching work will be carried forward on an increased scale to meet the enormous damage done to the streets during the severe weather.

City Manager W. W. Hill recently estimated damage to streets here during the winter had reached $50,000.

Many of the black top streets must be rebuilt over at least part of their length.

In some instances the crust of the streets was broken to pieces and badly cut up by traffic.

Never before has winter damage been so extensive to the miles of black top street in the city during the present winter.

Due to the enormous cost of placing the streets in the condition they were before the winter damage, it is expected that only temporary repairs will be made on many of the streets until the rebuilding and extensive repair work can be financed.

"Notice To Farmers With Regular Hired Help," from his nearest social security office of his Internal Revenue Office, or from his county agent, or from the office of the Production and Marketing Administration, local Production Credit Association, or National Farm Loan Association.

This notice briefly explains the rules covering farm workers. Attached is a form which the farmer fills out and mails to the Internal Revenue Collector for his district.

The latter will send him a "circular A" explaining fully how the law applies to farm workers. And, every three months, when the tax is due, the collector will mail him a form 941 for filing the return and paying the tax.

Heavy Truck Protest

for the situation which has been troubling counties all over the state and the state department itself.

They say, however, that some action taken now can relieve highways of an immediate continuation of the damage which is practically wrecking some roads. For a future more permanent remedy they realize that all citizens of the state will have to look to the state legislature for a solution.

Various suggestions have been put before Ohio officials and the Ohio General Assembly for legislation and changes in the present law. Some urge cutting down large truck weights, increasing license tax and charging higher license costs according to weight. Whether anything will be done in the face of strong opposition from the truck lobby and its related interests, is conjectural.

Allen To Present Letter

Allen has promised to present a letter from this committee to the highway director and will add his own opinion which, he says, in large measure coincides with the general ideas of those who are remonstrating against a continuation of this trouble.

The sentiment on this situation as expressed by this citizens' committee Monday can be bolstered by petitions with thousands of signatures, its members say. They add that "what is happening is so openly apparent that such action ought not to be necessary".

It was further pointed out by the committee that vast financial damage being done by heavy trucks, is costing taxpayers and other car users, whose light trucks and passenger cars are not causing this damage, not only money but also loss of new highway construction in many parts of the state because so much income must be devoted to repairs that new road and highway building must be materially lessened.

Another point raised was that the condition of the highways is proving a distinct hazard to drivers of all types on the roads both as to damage to their cars and to personal injury through accidents.

Law Provides For Action

The Ohio law as it relates to motor vehicles, section 7250, is pointed out by those protesting, as giving the highway department power to act now toward providing some barrier against greater further damage.

This section of law also provides for action by county commissioners on county highways. It says:

"When thaws or excessive moisture render the improved highways of this state or any sections of the same insufficient to bear the traffic thereon, or when such improved highways or any sections of them would be damaged or destroyed by heavy traffic during the period of thawing or excessive moisture, the maximum weight of vehicle and load, or the maximum speed, or both, for motor vehicles as prescribed by law shall be reduced in the following manner:

"On main market roads and inter-county highways of the state, which have been taken over by the state, the director of highways and public works shall prescribe such reduction which shall not be more than twenty-five percent; on improved highways and all other roads in the county, other than main market roads and inter-county highways taken over by the state, the county commissioners shall prescribe such reduction as the condition of the road or highway would justify, but in no case shall such reduction be more than fifty percent. Such schedule of such reduction of maximum weights and speed shall be filed for the information of the public in the office of the county commissioners of each county in which such schedule is operative and in the office of the director of highways and public works.

"The director of highways and public works, or the county commissioners at least one day before such reduction shall become effective, shall cause to be placed and retained on said improved highways or roads or sections thereof, at both ends and at the points of intersections by principal roads during the period of such reduced limitation of weight, or speed, or both, signs of substantial construction which will conspicuously indicate the limitation of weight of vehicle and load, and speed, which will be allowed on such highway or section thereof, and the date on which such limitations shall go into effect, and it shall be unlawful to operate upon any such highway, a motor vehicle whose maximum weight or speed is in excess of the limitations so prescribed.

"The expense of the purchase and erection of signs provided for in this section shall be paid for from funds for the maintenance and repair of roads. (112v. 249)."

Penalties

Penalties for violations are set forth in the Ohio law in section 7250-1 as follows:

"Whoever violates the weight provisions of sections 7246 to 7250, inclusive, of the General Code of Ohio shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined twenty-five dollars for the first two thousand pounds, or fraction thereof, of overload; for overloads in excess of two thousand pounds but not in excess of five thousand pounds he shall be fined twenty-five dollars and in addition thereto one dollar per one hundred pounds of overload; for overloads in excess of five thousand pounds, but not in excess of ten thousand pounds, he shall be fined twenty-five dollars and in addition thereto one dollar per one hundred pounds of overload, or imprisoned in the county jail or workhouse not more than thirty days, or both. For all overloads in excess of ten thousand pounds he shall be fined twenty-five dollars in addition thereto two dollars per one hundred pounds of overload, or imprisoned in the county jail or workhouse not more than thirty days, or both; and whoever violates any other provision of sections 7246 to 7250, inclusive, of the General Code of Ohio shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall, for the first offense, be fined not more than twenty-five dollars; and for the second offense within one year thereafter, not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisoned in

Child Psychologists Change Their Minds

Washington C. H. parents who have been trying to rear their children according to the theories of the psychologists who insisted upon "no repressions", can relax. They have been on the wrong track.

It is reported that most psychologists now admit that the "let them do as they please" school has bred a generation of near-vipers or as they phrase it, "liberated" children into "tyrants" who in most instances have proceeded to oppress their parents and other adults who have sought to manage them.

Now it appears that instead of frustrated children, we are developing a generation of frustrated parents.

Recently at the annual conference of the Child Study Association of America the "new approach" was outlined. We are to get back to the system found successful by many parents.

Actually there is nothing new about this new method. What the psychologists now suggest is just plain old-fashioned discipline, the kind that a lot of parents always used with better than average results.

However, "discipline" or even "restraint" are learned words in the vocabulary of the naughty men and women of psychology. They prefer a word like "renunciation" but what they mean is that children are to be told what to do and what not to do. When they are told they are to obey.

Talking with a Fayette County farm mother, the other day, a woman who has been quite a success in rearing a fine family of children, she made a remark that seemed very sensible. "I believe that most children need and desire direction. They regard this as a kind of support and learn from it to trust the judgement of their parents often when they feel the need of advice."

This switch of child care recommendations by many noted psychologists is not a new fad. They say it is the result of an intensive and critical study during several years.

This is a part of a general revision of theory. Only a few years ago it was announced the professors were abandoning the "mustn't-fondle-babies" rule. They had belatedly discovered that babies need the cuddling and the tender endearments which mothers give them instinctively.

Fortunately for the peace and comfort of most children and parents, not too much attention was paid to the shifting mumbo jumbo of child psychologists.

Most parents rear their young according to experience and common sense, knowing that an undisciplined child has a rough time of it when it reaches maturity and enters a world which offers neither success nor happiness to those who cannot subordinate their individualities to the needs of society.

Some people in India are alleged to be disrespectful to the American flag. But they are expected to recant when American grain arrives to feed their sacred cows.

An American formerly was described as a man who loved to take a chance. Now he wants the government to give him a leadpipe cinch.

Lobbyist without Money or Votes

WASHINGTON, March 13—(AP)—It isn't a headline-making congressional hearing. No mink coats. No deep freezes. No dancing girls. But to energetic, 35-year-old Mike Masaoka, the hearing on changes in our immigration and naturalization laws is of top-flight importance. He has missed a meeting of the Senate and House judiciary subcommittees, and he doesn't intend to.

I thought you might be interested in Mike because he doesn't fit in the picture that usually is painted of lobbyists. Like many another person working here to influence legislation, Mike has no money to throw around -- and he doesn't control enough votes to swing a single congressional election.

All Mike has is his own seemingly boundless energy, a cheerful friendliness, and he quickly points out, "a cause that is just." That may be enough.

Mike's cause may be better understood by looking first at Mike. The Masaoka family moved from Fresno to Utah. Mike went to school there, was graduated from the University of Utah. Everything was going along nicely until Dec. 7, 1941. That was a disaster for all of U, but it was a double disaster to Americans who looked like the enemy.

Japanese were put in detention camps. Japanese - Americans though citizens, were suspected of treachery. Mike was jailed nine times.

He decided the best way Japanese - Americans could prove their loyalty would be to have a fighting force of their own. The 442nd Japanese American regimental combat team was the result.

The first volunteer: Mike Masaoka. The second, third, fourth and fifth volunteers: Mike's brothers. The combat team had a terrific record. "We helped rescue the Texans," he says proudly, "and I am now an honorary citizen of Texas."

The 442nd won medals by the bucket full. The cost was high. Its casualties ran higher than 300 percent counting replacements.

The Masaokas won 30 medals. But one brother was killed, another suffered wounds that left him 100 percent disabled, another was 40 percent disabled.

Mike came home to work for the Japanese-American citizens league and its 10,000 members. The league has two objectives that are under consideration at the present hearing. In the order of their importance, these are:

1. Full naturalization rights for Japanese. No Japanese ever has been allowed to become a citizen, although, of course, his children who are born here are citizens. There are around 76,000 Japanese aliens in the U. S. and Hawaii.

"This means that my mother, who has been here since 1907 and who had five sons in the

By Arthur Edson
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

army, can't become a citizen," Mike says. "I don't think that's fair."

2. The league wants the old Oriental exclusion act repealed so that Japanese can immigrate. Even if this is done, only 185 would be allowed to come, in each year under the quota system.

"It isn't many," Mike says. "But it's the principle that counts. We think this law, which made the Japanese feel inferior, played a part in bringing on the last war."

So Masaoka goes his way, trying to persuade congressmen that his way is the fair way. A number of congressmen have been convinced.

But, says Mike, "it isn't due to me. It's due to the good job the Japanese Americans have done in proving they're real Americans. I'm just an exhibit."

Mike thinks he had a real break. He was named Masaru Masaoka but the members of his Boy Scout troop couldn't pronounce it. So they all put names in a hat, and he drew out the one that would be his. He's glad it was Mike. Easy to pronounce, easy to remember, it's a help in dealing with congressmen.

Mike has had the name legalized, and he feels he nailed the right to it down further when he was wounded during the war.

"I'm part Irish now," he says. "I needed a transfusion, and the blood was supplied by an Irishman."

Diet and Health Rash from Diapers Problem for Mothers

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

One of the problems which is likely to confront the mothers of young babies is diaper rash. The disorder is not serious but it does make the baby uncomfortable and, hence, cross. Moreover, there is always the chance of the inflamed skin becoming infected.

We have a simple method which not only prevents diaper rash but which also helps to heal it after it has occurred. It involves nothing more than giving the diapers a final rinsing in a solution of a chemical known as alkyl - dimethylbenzyl - ammonium chloride after they have been washed and rinsed in the ordinary way.

The results of this procedure were studied in the cases of 64 babies. Only those babies were included who had inflammation of the skin restricted to the area covered by the diaper. The babies had no diarrhea or evidences of any other diseases.

Ammonia Smell

When the diaper rash occurs, the diapers usually smell strongly of ammonia. This is due to the fact that certain germs from the bowel movements produce the ammonia substances in the urine.

In carrying out the treatment, the mothers were instructed not to use any medication, such as powders or ointments. The diapers were washed and rinsed as usual, using a detergent rather than soap. Immediately before drying, they were rinsed in the chemical solution, wrung out, and hung up to dry.

Soaking the diapers in the solution produces no changes in color, softness or odor of the diapers.

Varying Periods
In 62 out of the 64 infants, the diaper rash cleared up in varying periods of time, depending on the severity of the condition. The mild and moderately severe cases healed within a week, in the more severe cases, when there were sores present, improvement started within a few days, and all inflammation vanished within about two weeks.

In mild cases of diaper rash, perhaps the application of such mild ointments as boric acid ointment and frequent changing of the diapers will clear up the disorder. In moderately severe cases, the use of the diaper rinse would appear to be wise.

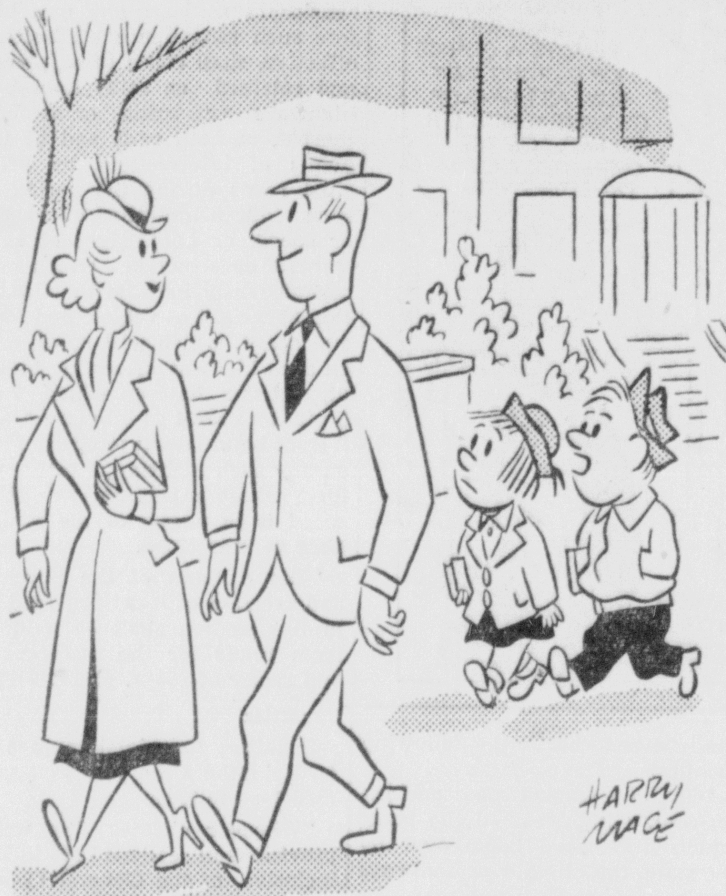

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
P. W. N.: Would it affect a diabetic to have his teeth removed under gas?

Answer: Tooth extraction with gas anesthesia can be safely carried out in the diabetic, provided proper precautions regarding insulin are taken. If the patient takes insulin, any surgery, infection, or general anesthetic calls for an increase in the insulin used. Of course, only the doctor can tell how much may be required.

Carpet-rug Wool Price Hike Okayed

WASHINGTON, March 13—(AP)—A 15 percent increase in the manufacturer's and wholesalers' price of wool carpets and rugs was approved by the government today.

Retailers will be permitted to pass along to their customers the exact dollars and cents increases reflected in the cost to them of the carpets and rugs they offer for sale.

The order by Price Director Michael V. DiSalle was issued because of increased costs of wool. The cost of the wool is about half the price of the manufacturers' finished product DiSalle's aides said.

The order allows a 15 percent increase in list prices for delivery of carpets and rugs during the base period of Dec. 19, 1950 to Jan. 15, 1951.

Missing Link in Foreign Policy

In all the excitement about Europe, with such voluminous and expert testimony about how many divisions we must send to defend the Rhine and other touristic rivers, little or nothing is being said about Central or South America.

It would seem that this is the missing link in our policy. These two American continents are joined together in an association of mutual self-interest which makes for a natural alliance.

Besides, we are, with increasing rapidity, recognizing that with the probable exception of diamonds, the American continents can provide all essential minerals and metals necessary for our production and defense. In fact, with sensible capital investments, the American continents could supply all the raw materials essential to our well-being.

Yet, so strong is the European tradition among us that we plunge into constantly more expensive adventures on the continent of Europe, while we ignore altogether the great riches on the American continents.

Governor Dewey's metallurgical knowledge failed him when he testified before Senator Connally's committee, for the governor seems to have forgotten the resources and reserves of Brazil and Chile in his excitement over how many divisions General Eisenhower requires, something about which General Eisenhower has been discreetly silent.

Herbert Hoover, who has always been a mining engineer had a metallurgist, who wrote a classical textbook on the subject and translated another from the Latin, contested Governor Dewey's worries in the following language:

"I presume Governor Dewey's statement was made in reply to one of mine, and Governor Dewey limited his statement to continental United States. I said that it is possible, by proper economic policy, to develop all of the necessary and critical raw materials in the western hemisphere. I include the whole hemisphere, and not the United States alone...."

"Now, supplies of many of these critical commodities are a matter of price. For instance, if there was a sufficient price, and I do not think that it is a very much larger price, probably five cents a pound in the present buying power of money, this country could produce all of the zinc and all the lead, and the western hemisphere could produce all of the copper that it would require. As to uranium supplies they would be more costly, if we had to get them out of the western hemisphere. There is also cobalt and chromium and there are aluminum ores. They are all possible at a sufficient price. So that the argument does not run in full. It only runs to the expenditures."

So, I looked up a few facts: Antimony ore is available in Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Honduras, the United States and Mexico. Bauxite, from which aluminum is made, is available in British Guiana, Curacao, Jamaica, Surinam and the United States. Chrome ore is found in the United States and Canada. the Philippines and Cuba.

Cobalt ore is found in the United States and Canada.

Copper is found in Chile, Peru and Ecuador, the United States, Canada and Mexico.

Lead ore comes from the United States, Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador, Canada, Mexico and Newfoundland.

Manganese is found in the United States and Mexico, but more in Brazil, Chile and Cuba.

Petroleum comes from the United States, Mexico, Venezuela and Colombia.

Grand Officer Of Eastern Star Is Complimented

Mrs. Margaret Morrow, Deputy Grand Matron of 23rd District Eastern Star, was the honored guest when about 120 members of Jefferson Chapter, of which she is a member, and guests complimented her at an evening party in the Masonic Temple in Jeffersonville.

The chapter room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with large baskets of pussy willows, spring flowers and greenery.

Mrs. Nellie Zimmerman, in a gracious manner, welcomed the guests in a clever original address, and Mrs. John Sheeley announced the program in rhyme.

Musical numbers were given by Mr. Marvin DeMont, and a quartet composed of Mrs. Margaret Dowler, Mr. Vernon Mason, Mr. DeMont and Mr. Charles Seibert, accompanied by Miss Louise Fults. "In the Garden of My Heart" was sung by Miss Lois Ervin, accompanied by Miss Norma J. Wilt.

Presentation of gifts to Mrs. Morrow was made by Mrs. Eva Owens, Mrs. Florence Seibert, Mrs. Margaret Hurt and Miss Helen Fults. After a gracious response by Mrs. Morrow, tea delicacies of decorated sandwiches, cookies, nuts and mints were served from a perfectly appointed table, centered with a beautiful arrangement of jonquils, Dutch iris and pink snapdragons in a crystal container flanked with three branch candelabra holding candles in shades of pink, yellow and green.

Mrs. Eva Owens and Mrs. Marie Williams, each a Past Deputy Grand Matron, presided over the silver service.

The committee in charge of refreshments was Mrs. W. W. Williams, Mrs. S. Max Thomas, Mrs. Warner Straley, Mrs. O. L. Wise-man, Mrs. Charles Seibert, Mrs. W. R. Spengler and Mrs. Forrest Ervin.

Included with the guests were Kathryn Crampton, Deputy Grand Matron of the 21st District, Mrs. Alma Noble, Grand Representative of Idaho.

Worthy Matrons from the 23rd District included Mrs. Annabell Stoll of Waverly, Mrs. Helen Thomas of Chillicothe, Mrs. Irene Acton of Frankfort, Mrs. Anne Collins of Circleville, Mrs. Frances Tolbert of Williamsport and Mrs. Margaret Hurt of Washington C. H.

Other guests present were from chapters of Xenia, Jamestown, Sabina, New Holland, Lebanon, Frankfort, New Vienna, South Charleston, Williamsport, Sedalia, Circleville, Bloomingburg, Chillicothe, Greenfield and Waverly.

Those from Royal Chapter, Washington C. H., were Mrs. Margaret Hurt, Worthy Matron, Mrs. Edith Chamberlain, Mr. Ulric Acton, Mrs. Mildred Mohr, Mrs. Viola Cline, Miss Florence Conner, Mrs. Olive Brookover, Mrs. Mary Ervin, Mrs. Roma J. Sorority Meets Monday Evening

The regular meeting of Gradale Sorority was held in the Record-Herald club rooms Monday evening.

Mrs. John Ohnewehr primus opened the meeting with the group singing the sorority song and the repeating of the invocation.

The short business session included the contributing of a substantial sum to the Red Cross and Easter Seal funds.

Plans were discussed for the Mother-Daughter banquet May 9, at the Washington Country Club. The program was in charge of Mrs. Frank Pope and Mrs. James McCoy.

Mrs. Pope read the Easter Story from St. John, and Mrs. McCoy read a clever poem entitled "The Easter Bunny."

The meeting was concluded and Mrs. Neil Helfrich conducted the First Aid Demonstration class.

The hostesses Mrs. Frank Pope and Mrs. James McCoy served light refreshments.

Pleasants Hosts To Class Members

Mr. and Mrs. George Pleasant assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Eye entertained the members of the True Blue Class of Sugar Grove Church.

The president Mrs. Donald Denin conducted the business session which opened with the singing of the hymns "I Love To Tell The Story," and "Lily of the Valley."

Mr. Pleasant read scripture from St. Mark and Mrs. Carrie Wilson led in prayer. The hymns "Take My Life, and Let it Be," and "Saved, Saved" closed the worship period.

Roll call was responded to with Easter messages.

It was voted by the members to donate liberally to the Red Cross fund and Mr. Lawrence Black was appointed to arrange for purchasing equipment for the church basement.

The meeting adjourned with the hymn "God Be With You," which was sung as a prayer for boys in the service.

Mrs. Lawrence Black and Mrs. John Merritt were in charge of the program which consisted of Bible questions. The hosts and hostesses served dainty refreshments during the social hour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Bethards.

Ladylike Fashions For Teen-age Girls

Young fashions for spring from St. Louis emphasize the lady-like and the costume look. Young people like fashions that adapt themselves easily to new roles. The dress, for instance, that goes to business when worn with its cover-up jacket, and that looks charming after five when the jacket comes off to bare the low neckline.

The bolero suit, a perennial young fashion for spring, appears in many fabrics, with the short bolero often buttoned from neck to waistline or purposely opened to reveal a contrasting blouse.

Frosted white at neckline and sleeves adds sharp and interesting accent to navy sheers, while the valentine charm of embroidery and lace marks these as easy-to-wear fashions.

The meeting adjourned with the benediction and during the social hour seasonal refreshments, were served by the hostesses Miss Drusilla Rodgers, Mrs. Bertha Smith and Mrs. Coral Meier who assisted for Mrs. W. B. Lansing, who was ill and not able to attend.

Mrs. Harold J. Braden was included as a guest.

Garden Club Gives Spring Reminders

Under the heading of "Now is the Time", the Washington Garden Club members come up with the following reminders for amateur gardeners. They advise the trimming of hedge to shape before growth starts.

Straighten any fall planted evergreens and remove mulch from perennials as soon as new shoots appear—if leaves, manure or old straw is used, spade in.

Sow annual poppy seeds as soon as soil can be worked.

Pansies must be planted early as they grow best in cool weather.

Now is also the time to pot tuberous begonias and lawns can be fertilized even if the ground is frozen.

Start indoors, such vegetables as broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage and head lettuce and set the plants out next month.

Jewelry Enhances Tapered Look

Men will come tall and tapered this year, decrée style-setting tailors, and the new narrow look for males is reflected in spring jewelry accents.

Pin collars, French cuffs, bar ties, demand smart yet simple accessories, and men's jewelry designers have rolled up their own cuffs and gone to work.

Newest thing they've come up with are clasps designed especially for longer, narrower ties now in vogue.

The predominance of stripes, smaller figures, and solid colors in ties have inspired simpler, shorter, and slimmer clasp designs to set them off to best advantage.

Very new is a round pin that richly complements a plain tie, minutely pierces both tie and shirt to hold them in a firm grip.

Jet Planes Take 'Powder' Here

Absence of Aircraft Noted Since Complaint

Belief was expressed Tuesday that the action of City Manager W. W. Hill protesting against jet planes racing over the city had stopped the practice.

This belief was based on the fact that not since the middle of last week has a jet plane been reported over Washington C. H. up to the noon hour Tuesday.

Not only City Manager Hill protested to the commanding officer of Wright-Patterson Air Base against the jet planes swishing over the city at low altitudes and at several hundred miles per hour, but the protest was given widespread publicity.

Hill has received no word from the commanding officer, but halting of the planes has been taken to indicate that the complaint reached headquarters.

If the jet racing over the city is renewed, Hill said that he would make a personal visit to Wright-Patterson Field if necessary to get at the bottom of the matter and get action.

Newspaper reports indicated that denial had been made that the jets were based at Wright-Patterson Field.

The fact remains that the jets came from the general direction of Wright-Patterson Field and returned in the same direction.

Apparently the planes passed over the city, turned a few miles east of Washington C. H. and raced back at increased speed.

It was pointed out by air officials that jets traveling at top speed are supposed to fly very high over cities when they pass over them.

The altitude of some of the planes passing over Washington C. H. was estimated at 1,500 feet.

Food Price Control

ducts. And farmers have been warned to expect ceilings on live hogs. The government is also eyeing beef.

Livestock growers are meeting today in Dallas. And strong protests are to be expected against government interference from the 4,000 ranchers at the Texas and southwestern cattle raisers association meeting. They have contended that any price controls will lead only to cuts in production and the channeling of meat into black markets.

Most farm prices are still below parity -- the price which the government says gives the farmer an even break price-wise between what he sells and what he buys.

Canners and freezers report that growers are bargaining hard to get 100 percent of parity in contracts for 1951 crops. Farmers said they are entitled to this, citing the emergency price control law of last summer which forbids price tampering with farm products below parity.

According to the American In-

Fire Protection Policy Explained At Jeffersonville

Jeffersonville's fire protection and good neighbor policies today were clarified by no less an authority than Charles Funk, chief of the village's volunteer fire department, through a spokesman, Warren W. Williams.

Funk said he and his fellow townsmen feel that the fire destitute of Food Distribution, growers feel this law indicates that food prices are expected to rise to this parity figure. The institute says, "canners and other processors are occasionally conceding this advance, or more, because the increased acreage they want is hard to get." Farmers are loathe to plant bigger crops unless assured the canners will pay full parity prices.

But the institute thinks that competition at the grocery level is the housewife's best bet. It doubts if the new mark-up privilege can be used in full on some items, like sugar, by retailers and wholesalers, because abundant supplies and grocer competition will keep prices down.

The institute notes that "aggressive retailers are advertising more special prices than 30 days ago. This competition will be more effective in keeping food prices down than the legal controls ordered by Washington."

Competition is reported in another field today -- the fight between coffee and tea men to influence America's beverage habits. The census bureau says 1950 coffee imports dropped 16.4 percent from 1949 and were the lowest since 1943. Tea imports rose 20.6 percent in 1950.

The nearly 2.5 billion pounds of coffee imported last year brought 37.4 percent more in dollars, however, the census bureau says. Tea imports of 114.5 million pounds gained 17.1 percent in dollar value.

The National Coffee Association of U. S. A. comes back quickly with the claim that more than 264 million pounds of coffee were imported last month, 28 percent more than last year.

The tea bureau, taking heart from growing imports, is pushing hard its drive to get more Americans to drink tea. It claims good results. But coffee still holds its throne as the American hot beverage.

How to Help Your "Cratching" Dog

If you own and are fond of a dog that is continually scratching, digging, rubbing and biting himself until his skin is raw and sore, don't just feel sorry for him. The dog can't help himself. But you just suffering from an intense itching irritation that has centered in the nerve endings of the skin. Do as thousands of pleased dog owners are doing. At any good drug store or pet shop get a package of Rex Hunters dog powders (tablet form) and give them as directed. Notice the quick improvement. One owner writes: "I have had very satisfactory results from the use of your Dog Powders. My dog's coat has greatly improved in appearance and he no longer scratches as he did when his skin was irritated. Learn what they will do for your dog. Economy size box only $1. IMPORTANT: Rectal itching, bad breath, watery eyes and fits. Such symptoms indicate worms. Rex Hunters dependable Worm Capsules give immediate results."

partment was put in a bad light through a lack of public understanding of why the Jeffersonville fire fighting equipment did not respond to a call for help last Friday, when the Opekasit, elevator at South Solon burned.

Funk said that "we just could not go to South Solon legally... under our insurance contract."

The spokesman for the volunteer chief then went on to explain that had the equipment gone to South Solon, about eight miles to the north (and over a badly damaged road), it would not have been covered by insurance.

The Jeffersonville department, he said, is for fire protection only in Jeffersonville, Jefferson Township, Milledgeville (not all of Jasper Township) and the northern part of Paint Township. The dividing line in Paint Township was not drawn in detail, but it was said the protection included Bloomingburg.

Funk said through his spokesman that he had consulted with Richard Blue, the chairman of the Jefferson Township trustees, before turning down the South Solon appeal for help.

The fact that Opekasit offered to pay for the trip did not enter into the considerations, Funk said. Neither did the reported failure to receive payment for fighting another South Solon fire, he added.

"It was simply a case of sticking to our contract and insurance coverage," the chief's spokesman said.

The South Charleston department answered a call for help in fighting the Opekasit blaze with 15 men and equipment, including an 800-gallon tank-pumper. But, it ran out of water just as the flames were being brought under control.

Another tank-pumper, of 500-gallon capacity, came from Mt. Sterling.

Ore from Portugal Is Wanted by Japan

GOA, Portuguese India — (AP) — Japan is trying to negotiate for annual exports from Portuguese Goa of 100,000 tons of iron ore and up to 40,000 tons of manganese ore.

Two Nippon representatives said Japan's yearly import needs were at least 6,000,000 tons of iron ore and 400,000 tons of manganese ore.

Junior Class To Present Play 'Cheaper by Dozen' on Friday

Friday evening is the date set for the presentation of "Cheaper By The Dozen" by members of the junior class of Washington C. H. High School.

It will be given in the school auditorium starting at 8 P. M. The story deals with the actual happenings of a real family and was written by two of the children, Frank and Earnestine Gilbreath.

Action takes place in the Gilbreath home and centers around a family of 12 children, their Dad, an efficiency expert and their mother, who is a well known psychologist.

Stephen Brown will play the part of Dad Gilbreath, and Marilyn Cunningham will take over the duties of Mother Gilbreath.

Mary Lou Sollars, Mrs. Fitzgerald; Bob Gidding, Joe Scales; Winifred Wimer, Miss Brill; Terry Bright, Larry, and Rodney Acton, Dr. Burton.

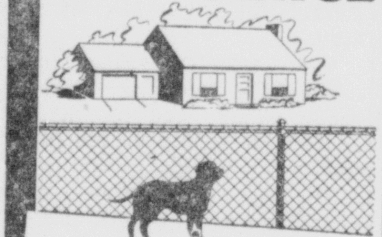

Money from the play will go in part to pay the junior class share of financing the Junior-Senior Prom. The remainder of the money will go into the class treasury to help pay for a gift to be given by the class when it graduates.

Five Percent Tax Planned in Egypt

CAIRO — (AP) — The Egyptian parliament is considering a government-sponsored bill to levy a flat five percent tax on all salaries.

The tax is now a graduated one, varying from two percent on small incomes to seven percent on bigger ones. Local newspapers quoted the finance minister as saying the new measure would "facilitate calculations in assessing the tax".

Big Bet Offered Russia Won't Fight

LOS ANGELES, March 13 — (AP) — A retired oil man and financier has offered to bet $100,000 Russia doesn't attack this country this year and $200,000 that she won't do it in 1952.

Andrew T. Jergins, who recently sold his holdings for $32,000,000 made the wager in an interview Saturday night.

The offer is "worldwide, there are no strings attached," he emphasized, adding, "if I win I'll turn over the money to the Boy and Girl Scouts of Los Angeles County".

Chandler Ousted As Baseball Czar

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 13—(P)—Baseball Commissioner Albert B. (Happy) Chandler will resign for his post within the next six months regardless of whether his successor is elected, it was learned today.

A close friend of the commissioner told the Associated Press Chandler had debated the idea of quitting immediately after his re-election by the Major League owners yesterday, but was advised against it.

As was the case in St. Petersburg three months ago, the magnates voted not to reelect Chandler to a new term. In a written secret ballot, nine owners voted for Chandler and seven voted against him. He needed 12 for re-election. The former Kentucky senator's seven year contract ends April 30, 1952.

"Happy knew he was licked Sunday after a talk with Clark Griffith of Washington, his staunchest supporter," the Chandler intimate said. "He suggested resigning then but was advised to reserve decision until he talked with his closest friends among the baseball magnates."

"Chandler knows he cannot hope ever to be re-elected now. He is sick of baseball and disgusted with the way he has been mistreated by some baseball men. He wants to get out of it as soon as possible and return to his first love, which is politics."

"Furthermore, Happy is a man of great pride. He won't allow himself to be a mere figurehead in any business he is in. That's what his position has been subjected to now."

Chandler was meek and mellow yesterday in sharp contrast to his attitude at St. Petersburg when he was bitter and battling and vowed he'd serve out his term to the last second. This time he said he would do anything the club owners wanted him to do, and that he would make it as easy as possible for them to elect a new commissioner.

In the event Chandler resigns before a new commissioner is elected, all his powers and duties will be exercised by the executive council.

Ohio Conference All Star Team

Millhon and Conner Unanimous Choices

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, March 13—(P)—Four seniors and one sophomore, representing five different schools, make up the 1951 Ohio Conference All-Star basketball team.

The squad was selected by the Associated Press with the aid of coaches, sports editors and officials.

The sophomore is six-foot seven-inch Jim Emanuelson of Denison, who hit the bucket for 386 points in 18 games on a club which finished a poor last in the league with a 2-13 record.

For the first time in the history of all-conference clubs, two players were unanimous choices and were named co-captains. The standouts were Ohio Wesleyan's Jud Millhon, who led the league in both total and average scoring, and Tom Connor, sterling shot-maker for the champion Muskingum team.

Millhon scored 529 points in 21 games, Connor finishing second with 526 in 23 tilts. The Ohio Wesleyan stalwart grabbed the center job easily, while Connor moved in beside Emanuelson at forward.

The guard berths went to George Fulton of Kent State, undefeated in the conference, and Ed Palmer of Heidelberg, which won only seven of 15 league contests.

In the Mid-Ohio League selections, Ashland's champions and Findlay's second-placers won two berths each, with Ohio Northern taking the fifth spot. Ron Marquette of Findlay, a freshman, won a forward job.

in history and also is striving to become the highest paid Dodger pitcher of all time. The record for most wins by a Brook lefty is 22 and the salary record is $25,000 by Dazzy Vance.

TIGER OUTFIELDER OUT

LAKE LAND, Fla., March 13—(P)—Because of a pulled leg muscle outfielder Johnny Groth is getting a few holidays in the Detroit Tiger camp. It doesn't appear serious, said Manager Red Rolfe told Groth to take it easy for a while to play safe.

PIRATES VS CHISOX

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 13—(P)—Manager Bill Meyer sends the Pittsburgh Pirates against the Chicago Americans today in quest of spring training victory No. 4.

The Bucs hammered out 18 hits yesterday in an easy 11-12 win over Seattle of the Pacific Coast League.

Durocher said that Kramer was allowed to take his time last year but that won't happen again.

PREACHER AFTER RECORDS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 13—(P)—Preacher Roe, star left-hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is gunning for two club records this year.

Roe would like to win more games than any Dodger left-hander.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONG FELLOW
One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three Ls, X for the two Os, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

River's Rim

by Jane Abbott

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE
BECKY was waiting for Quint and Jennet in Aladdin's shed, her eyes round with excitement. "Mr. Darby, there're soldiers in the taproom. Six of 'em. I counted through a crack in the door. They went down to the Rock first and then they come up."

The guard General, Potter had spoken of Quint's face darkened. "Put up my horse, Becky, and you two go to the kitchen and stay there. And no peeking through the door crack."

An officer of the regular army was with General Potter in the taproom, a tall man of pompous bearing, resplendent in the gold braid of his rank.

General Potter introduced him briefly. "General Van Rensselaer—Mr. Quintus Darby."

General Van Rensselaer gave a half-salute; Quint acknowledged it with a slight inclination of his head.

General Van Rensselaer drew himself up to an even more important erectness. "You are the owner of the property ceded rights to this ferry across the river, and to maintain its landing on this side?"

"I am."

The General drew a sheet of paper from inside his tunic, looked down at it, as if he were reading it. In the interests of defense, he announced, and for future invasion the army was taking over both ferry and landing for the duration of the war. A guard would be posted at the landing night and day. Two twelve-pounders would be set up on the higher ground commanding the landing as soon as they came from Canandaigua where they had been requisitioned.

He folded the paper. Quint had a strong conviction that there was nothing really written on it.

"And the tavern here?" he asked.

"As a civilian..." The General's glance dropped for an instant to Quint's empty sleeve, "...you have the right to carry on your business as long as it does not interfere in any way with the strategies of defense and offense, as planned by our councils of war. Until some barracks are put up you are asked to feed the guard as you are leaving here, for which expense you will be paid when the money requisitioned comes in."

Now the General made a full salute, signalled to General Potter, turned on his heel with fine military precision and led the way out of the taproom.

A loud guffaw came from one of the four regulars they had left behind. One stepped up to the bar, saluted Toby. "By order of the Government of the United States of America, four rum flips, my fellow, for which expense you will be paid when money comes in. Ho-ha!" He looked back at his companions. "Hear that? When it comes in."

Quint took one stride up to the fellow.

"Your guard duty does not include this tavern, I give orders here. You will enter it only to eat. And trespassing about these premises will be reported to your commanding officer. If he does not deal with it, I will."

He spoke quietly though his blood was pounding at his temples. The man swung round. "You?" But his sneer altered at the steeliness in Quint's eyes, the set of his mouth.

Quint went into his office, got out two pistols. Perhaps the time had come to keep them at hand. He belted one on himself, drew his coat down over it, returned to the taproom with the other.

"I've powder—not much, so use it only when it is absolutely necessary. Keep it out of sight but within reach," he told Toby.

He went to the kitchen where Jennet and Becky and Sarah were busy preparing supper. As she worked Jennet was entertaining the others with some mimicry which was making Becky giggle and even old Sarah smile. It struck Quint suddenly that he had never heard Becky laugh, or even a smile on Sarah's face while Rhoda was in charge. And what he had to say must check their merriment.

"Have they all gone?" asked Jennet at once. "We didn't peek through the door but we did watch through the window and we saw two ride away. They looked most magnificent!"

He told her of the guard left at the landing. "They'll not trouble us, here—I've seen to that. But from now on I forbid either of you or Becky to leave the tavern yard unless I am with you."

"I've a pistol, Uncle Quint. I told you before—I am very expert with it."

Red came up Quint's face. "Leave it where it is, young lady. I'll take care of the safety of my household." He turned to Sarah to instruct her to fill supper plates for the four soldiers. He left them.

But through the next few days there proved nothing menacing in the guard so close at hand. They slept, two in turn, in a rough, canvas-covered shelter near the landing and when on duty sprawled under a tree on the high bank playing cards part of the time and sleeping, Quint suspected, the rest. They gave Toby no trouble, spoke respectfully enough to Quint when they encountered him in the taproom. Old Sarah's grandson, who was too young to volunteer and whom Quint had hired as a potboy, brought their food in to them and

Coast of Estonia Big Russian Base

FRANKFURT, March 13—(AP)—Soviet Russia has turned the coast of Estonia into a bustling chain of naval bases and submarine pens commanding the Baltic Sea, refugees from that Soviet Republic reported today.

Their reports were published in the "ABN Correspondence," monthly bulletin of the "Anti-Bolshevik Bloc of Nations" an organization of refugees from countries behind the Iron Curtain.

Rumors of huge Soviet naval and military constructions along the Baltic Coast have been sweeping out of this heavily guarded area for some time. According to these rumors, the Soviet chain of naval bases extends the length of the Baltic Coast from Finland to eastern Germany.

The Russians last year admitted shooting at a U. S. navy plane which they claimed flew over Soviet-occupied Latvia. The plane has never been found.

Navy Construction Program Authorized

KEY WEST, March 13—(AP)—President Truman has signed a naval construction bill which calls for expenditure of an estimated $2,250,000,000 -- the most since World War Two.

Signing of the bill, which passed Congress without a dissenting vote, was announced yesterday by presidential Secretary Joseph Short.

While funds must be provided in other legislation, the authorization bill calls for building a 57,000-ton aircraft carrier, an atomic powered submarine, 173 new ships and the remodeling of 291 ships already available.

Red Infiltration Aimed at Military

WASHINGTON, March 13—(AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today he believes the Communists in this country now are giving top priority to infiltration of America's military establishment.

"Before the current emergency, the main objective of the Reds was to penetrate our state department," Ferguson declared.

"But I believe their No. 1 target now is penetration of our armed services, with our industrial plants second on the list and the state department third."

Ferguson is a member of a new Senate internal security committee which has started a broad investigation aimed at turning out any Communists or Red sympathizers in the armed forces or the government's civilian agencies.

Operators of telephone lines in Africa have animal troubles. Elephants toss the poles about, baboons do gymnastics on them and break the wires and one giraffe ran through a telephone line and carried the wire 200 yards.

Lavish Lingerie Has Many Roles in This Spring's Styles

Crisp Fabric Serves Well In Many Ways

There's a lavish look to lingerie this spring, often fashioned of dress fabrics and in many instances styled for double duty beneath dresses and suits or to be worn alone as a blouse, a dicky or mix-match separates.

More than ever there is a generous application of lace on lingerie. Linen laces, Val laces and Alencons dress up slips, nightgowns and pajamas. Eyelet laces trim cotton lingerie and nylon net is used with nylon, laces and rayon.

A glamorous touch of glitter comes forth in gold threading seen in elasticized slip bodices and elasticized midriffs of gowns.

Many new lingerie fashions, taking a cue from outerwear, are designed in spring dress fabrics such as sleek cotton satin, crisp pique, butcher linen, chambray and luxurious silk shantung.

Traditional Fabrics

The more traditional fabrics including rayon knits, nylons and silks are also readily available for choice.

Following the season's style trends, lingerie designs are slim. They have strapless tops that allow for lower cut necklines and some slips even have the trumpet silhouette, seen in godets around the hemlines of their skirts.

Often slips and camisoles are prettily designed to be worn as outerwear garments. Camisoles, for example, are be-ruffled and lavishly with lace and are meant to be worn as blouses. New dicky slips eliminate the need for a blouse with new spring suits. And bare-midriff short pajamas can be mixed and matched with other spring and summer sportswear.

Slips are designed to offer better fit than ever with elasticized bodices, elastic-back bodices, elastic-shirred inserts at the waistlines, side zips and built-up necklines that have wide straps serving as concealment for bra straps.

Shorty Styles

The new note in pajama styling is the shorty type. Sometimes the top is a halter, at others it is a dramatic bikini ensemble. The shorts may be trimly tailored for sleepwear as well as active daytime use. They may be boxer shorts or bloomer or romper style.

Long pajamas retain their classic outlook, but this season make news in the great variety of unusual and bold prints and colors in which they are featured. Most popular shades are the coral tones and aqua.

Still in great popularity are the pajama sets for travel or around the house ease. There are classic pajama and robe sets, pert little shortie coats in lightweight fabrics and quilted styles that are donned over pajamas and, of course, luxurious matching negligee and gown sets for the bride's trousseau.

Dress Details

Gowns follow the lead of dress fashions with their slim lines and dramatic apron and tunic details. Strapless gowns, too, are featured, sometimes with elasticized bodices, at others with elastic around the neckline. Off-shoulder and camisole top gowns are in the season picture, as are shorty gowns with femininely fluffy accents or smartly tailored mandarin styling dramatized with contrasting piping and frogs.

Traditional pastels such as blue, pink, white and delicate maize remain lingerie favorites for spring. The brown tones, beige, navy and black also appear for new season selection.

Slip-on Shoes Still Popular

Shoes keyed to the season in both weight and color and shoes keyed to the occasion in style as well as fabric and color are now being introduced into the men's footwear agenda for this spring. Especially adaptable to warm spring and summer days are ventilated shoes in woven and mesh styles. The use of lighter colors and color combinations in these shoes also does much to sustain their airier and cooler mood.

For men who like a suitable pair of shoes for each date on their calendar, there are new smooth and brushed leather combinations, often in contrasting colors. The darker tones are stressed for town wear and black, brown, white and other light colors are suggested for casual activities.

Newest and already most widely accepted of the "special occasion" as well as seasonal shoe style is the slip-on, a laceless shoe with front, side of concealed gores to insure stay-on comfort.

A typical slip-on style designed for town is the nylon mesh shoe. It is usually combined with a smooth leather in a contrasting color and can be had in wing, Scotch tip, mud-guard front, moccasin or other slip-on styles.

For more casual wear there are slip-ons in moccasin styles that combine smooth leather with a tartan plaid cloth, plain smooth leather slip-ons whose only ornament is an adjustable buckle strap across the instep and tasseled moccasin-type designs with side self lacing.

Hair Styles Flattered By New Spring Hats

Whether to conceal or reveal your coiffure is the important question in millinery design for spring 1951. And fashion's abrupt bob to the luxuriant chignon has a two-in-one answer.

Level-headed hats and hats with suggestion of a list to the right look right with both short and long hair.

Favored silhouettes include the sailor, the bonnet, the pill-box, beret and turban with ample crowns and usually, moderately wider brims.

To avoid any suggestion of heaviness, many hats are set off the brow on tiny "platforms" of velvet or ribbon and brims curve softly from front to back or side to side.

For Chignons

To accommodate the new chignons (pinned-on or real) hats are frequently cut out at the back or have their brims tapered to nothing at the nape. Flowers, veiling, ribbons and scarves point up the back-interest created by the close harmony between hat and hairdo.

Flowers, leaves and berries are wonderful in their variety and dainty in size. Small flowers are woven into narrow garlands, curving around the crown or brim or in a crescent over the chignon, or they may be scattered lightly over the entire hat.

Dewdrops of pearl, rhinestone, sequin and crystal beads make spring flowers shimmer softly on afternoon and evening hats.

Straws are infinite in their variety. Traditional favorites like milan, shantung and leghorn are dyed in exciting new shades, piped or faced with contrasting straws and fabrics, seen dimly through tight-stretched veiling or lace and combined with other materials such as yarn or sequin bandings.

Sheer hair straws are intricately pleated or patterned with fine silk or straw braids, laces and embroidery. Novelty straws range from translucent candy types to nubby textures like breakfast cereals and every type of straw is woven in combination with others into texture patterns, plaids, tweed-like combinations and tone-on-tone effects.

Woven Straw Cloths

Millinery fabrics have their own individuality this spring. Straw cloths are woven like shiny, ribbed faille, in shantung weaves and airy meshes.

Straw yarn is crocheted in lace patterns, combined with pastel sequins, angora yarn and raffia. Versatile casual hats are crocheted or sewed row-on-row of nylon, as well as the familiar grosgrain. Printed cottons, calicos, pique, organdy and velvet are used alone or in combination with straws.

It is distinctly a colorful spring and even the perennial black navy, natural and white hats are generally trimmed with color.

Mauve and violet tones, along with soft pinks and blues, rank high in favor with feminine wearers of all ages. But there are also lovely soft shades of lime, moss and deep greens, buttercup tones and occasional hats of brilliant emerald green or electrifying blue and fuchsia.

USE SCENIC wallpaper to make rooms appear larger, suggests the Wallpaper Institute. This type of pattern is most effective with furniture of classic simplicity and blends well with pieces such as the stark teakwood table shown above.

Brunch Coat Has New Style Detail

Fashion isn't restricted to just those periods in the day when "dress up" is required. Women who know and appreciate good fashion are aware that as much good taste can lie in choosing a brunch coat as an evening dress.

A brunch coat is a versatile garment. It makes a handy, quick cover-up around the house. A smart short coat can go out to garden, down to market or to the sea as a beach coat.

Back wraps and two-way coats that can be reversed front and back are newest popular designs for brunch coats. These are feminine styles with cap sleeves and come in plaid, plain cottons with ric-rac trim and wide-spaced florals.

The trumpet influence is beginning to be felt with flared and flounced hemlines showing up. These are styled with either square-cut or yoke necklines and are made in cotton plisses, percale prints and solid color broadcloths.

Slender and simple is the silhouette for these fashion-minded brunch coats, and the woman at home will find styles galore to choose from, styles in which she can look pretty and feel well dressed all day.

Lighter Fabrics and Colors Mark Men's Spring Fashions

Natural Lines Designed to Give Comfort

The well dressed man will stick to the straight and narrow this Spring.

The unbroken, hanging lines of Spring suits and topcoats add height and subtract width from the male contour. Hats, ties and collars are tapered to enhance the illusion.

Lightweight fabrics also help to achieve slimmer lines with clear finished and unfinished worsteds, sharkskins, flannels, gabardines and lightweight tweeds leading the field.

Spring-into-Summer favorites are the perennial tropical worsteds, rayons, linens, and linen-like weaves, silks and silk blends. Miniature checks, self weaves, subdued stripes and overplaids find wide favor for dress and business, with fancier patterns setting the pace for semi-sports and sportswear.

Colors fade to cool tones and shades, with attention focused on greyish casts, particularly greyish blues and tans.

Iridescent or mixed effects will be seen on many a well clad back especially in combinations of blue and tan, blue and grey and wine and grey.

Dark colors take over for tropical fabric suits, with blue looming in importance. Topcoats will turn up in many shades of grey.

Rectangular Shapes
Shoulders slope naturally this Spring, with padding in suits and topcoats pared to a bare minimum. Jacket and coat shapes approach the rectangular.

The two-button single-breasted suit, prized for its slimming effect, is gaining country-wide popularity, although the three-button, double-breasted model still has wide style appeal. Patch pockets, grafted from sports jackets, are being widely sported by well dressed males, particularly in the middle and far west.

Light ground tartans dominate the Spring sports picture, featured in odd sports jackets, blazers and a new item, the tartan waistcoat. Tartan is all-important for sports accessories, too, turning up in shoes, caps, suspenders and shirts. Sporty topcoats in tweed with zip-in linings have wide appeal this Spring, with a resurgence in popularity of the bal collar.

A BEDROOM GROUP that emphasizes the simple lines found in the modern home. Dramatized with split circular pulls balanced by protruding shoe type bases. Horizon group by The Mengel Co.

try, then let your make-up reflect, your way of living. Both powder base and powder should be natural with just enough rouge added to give the effect of a natural bloom. Use mascara lightly and if necessary, darken your eyebrow line. Lipstick, in a blue-red or orange-red tone, depending on your accessories, can be generously applied.

For those glamorous evenings you'll want make-up that helps your face achieve an equally glamorous appeal. So dramatize it with starkly pale powder base and powder. Use no rouge. Make up your eyes dramatically and use a deep red lipstick left unblotted for a glossy high-finish effect.

Trees from Brazil For Iceland's Parks

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — (AP) — Trees of Brazilian origin may decorate gardens and parks in the capital of treeless Iceland in a few years. Kaj A. Svanholm of Rio de Janeiro has offered the city 5,000 eucalyptus plants from Brazil. He visited Iceland last summer and thinks they might grow well.

Last fall the Iceland government sent a special envoy to Alaska to gather seeds for Iceland's forestry program.

New Luggage Air-Minded And Colorful

Luggage, this spring and summer, has a special affinity for color, a more than ever ability to "take it" and is designed to meet the increasing demand of air travelers for genuine feather weight.

From all appearances new luggage might well have spent the winter playing with Mother Nature's dye pot. Blues, from pale sky to deep sea tones, mossy greens, shades of sunset pink and rich earthy browns give the soon-to-be-vacationer an indicative whiff of the great outdoors about to be sampled in person.

New patterns also play an important role in creating a mood for travel. They range from heathery tweeds, diagonal tweeds, basket weaves, herringbones and stripes to sporty pin checks and a whole series of authentic tartan plaids.

Sturdy Fabrics

But don't let the delicate lady-like shades of this season's luggage fool you. Their materials serve as sound foils to their dainty appearance. Sturdy leathers, such as cowhide, rawhide, alligator and pigskin are all used. As well as canvas, nylon and a whole series of new plastic coverings.

Many of the new design ideas in luggage which have cropped up for this season are the direct result of the perpetual hue and cry for lighter than ever luggage for air travel.

Shoe Carriers

There's the pliable soft sided case which carries clothes flat and may or may not fold. It comes in nylon or canvas in matched sets or individual zipper roll bags in conventional shades or sprightly plaids.

There are special shoe carriers, made of lightweight, plastic coated canvas with removable shoe pockets. In addition to the usual zippered hat boxes there are now those patterned after the old style with sturdy hinges and locks.

Luxurious little vanity cases are more elegant than ever in rich leather with or without a tray, or with fittings on a shelf back.

OPTICAL ILLUSION

A new tie series features "Optical Illusions" with a third dimensional theme in an all-over striped effect on white background. The pencil-line stripes in an assortment of colors, converge at a central focal point, giving the illusion of depth.

Wear Different Face To Different Events

It's Easy To Do With Right Makeup

Town, country and evening occasions require make-up as distinctively different as the costumes you select for each occasion.

If you're planning to spend the day in town your face should be made up accordingly. This means a light powder base, powder just a little deeper in tone and rouge applied very lightly, if at all. Eyebrows and lashes should be kept as natural looking as possible. And a good daytime color of orange or a bluetoned red, depending on your costume should serve as a striking accent.

Gay New Decorations Brighten Up the Home

There's a wonderful opportunity at hand this season to add something different, something new, something outstandingly refreshing to every room in your home, whether it's a gay spot of color with wall paper or a lamp that provides a beauty source for light.

Just take an imaginary tour through a house and see what decorating magic can be wrought with the many new designs now available. And after you have finished, take a tour through your own home and see how so many of these new innovations can become a part of your home living.

If, in your home, as in most new smaller unit homes, the living room is the center of family activity, you'll want to keep it looking fresh and pretty always.

Re-paint the walls to one of the deep earthy tones now being featured. The palest of beige to deep russet, depending upon your furnishings, will look smart and new.

Add one of the synthetic fibre rugs, made of a rayon and cotton mixture or all-rayon, in a bright shade, and see what an over-all effect of gaiety you achieve. Then dress-up your living room with new accessories, such as one of the more simply designed tall column lamps with a textured wood base or one of the exquisitely designed figurine lamps of pottery or china.

Over-all Color

If yours is a living-dining room combination, then give it an effect of enlarged living space with one over-all wall color accented with wall paper placed in a single section of the room.

If your decor is traditional or provincial, use one of the small all-over patterned designs. For a modern room, try a big splashy printed paper with a light ground and a bright color over-print.

Prepare your dining room for Easter and graduation family table that insures comfortable get-togethers with a large dining seating for all.

Choose one that contains shallow drawers concealed in the apron at each end to accommodate silver and linens or select a round Regency style for two that can extend easily to seat eight.

If you are one of the fortunate who have a den, or even if, as most people do, you handle your correspondence in the living room, then look to the new sleek lined, functional desks designed with a slab mounted on a single pedestal and an H-leg.

These desks are extra handy with storage space provided in a two or three drawer compartment which becomes part of the design where the pedestal meets the top.

Scalloped Sheets

Give your bedroom a treat with white sheets, scalloped in colors that coordinate with your blankets and towels.

Then, if storage space is a continuing problem in your home, you might add a wardrobe closet in a wood-grain finish. This may be either a compact single door type or a more elaborate double door style.

Your bath can have warm personality with colors on the wall, colored tiles and with bath ensembles in coordinated colors. If you prefer a more personalized effect, choose white towels with your monogram in a contrasting shade.

Simple Glassware

There are many interesting new accessories and appliances for your kitchen available this spring. For instance, glassware has a new fashion aspect. High stemmed glass delicacies can be replaced now by entirely plain or simply etched or cut glasses with just a base or a knob instead of a long stem.

Sterling silver, luxurious and everlasting, looks newest in a lacy floral pattern or an ultra simple style borrowed from Danish designs.

A new electric kitchen clock has a circular base with bold raised numerals for maximum readability from any point in the room. And even your kitchen cabinets can be treated to a touch of modernization. A latch for cabinet doors is designed to close and stay securely so with just a tap of your finger.

Lounging Wear Is Fun To Sew

Many New Ideas
From TV Shows

At-home fashions have taken on new life.

Television has thrown a spotlight on home entertaining and designers have come to realize that women want to look as glamorous as the fashionable beauties reflected on the screens of their TV sets.

The trend for special TV clothes has rocketed sky high and a new fashion pace has been set for separates that add up to a variety of exciting versatile fashions.

The stores have festive fabrics and so many enchanting variations on the skirt and blouse theme that any woman can select individual and flattering styles for herself.

Only a flinty heart could fail to beat faster at the sight of the new hand print organdy circle skirts that can be made quickly and easily at home. They're a bright new version of circles with dramatic motifs hand-printed on washable organdy.

Worn as an overskirt over a sheath or simple dress, these skirts have the right note of informal dress-up elegance for television nights, canasta parties and dinners on the patio.

Paired with a strapless camisole, a halter, a bare-armed or bare-necked blouse, they have unlimited possibilities for on-the-town excitement. One or two of these skirts makes a whole wardrobe for after-five gaiety.

For those who love to buy pretty things, there are ready-to-wear skirts made by some of the leading designers. These are already teamed with blouses, camisoles and sheaths which can be used as underneath fashions or double as another evening outfit.

Few Basic Rules For Happy Years

Follow these simple and few basic rules for the selection of sterling silver flatware and gain a lifetime of happy satisfaction from the use of these precious table accessories.

First, go to a store you can trust and ask to see reputable and well-known brands.

Then compare details of the ornamentation of the different brands. Unless there is a refinement in detail, it cannot be regarded as quality silverware.

Remember to study the gracefulness and rhythm of each design. An inferior design can be detected easily by its lack of overall beauty.

After you have selected your pattern, test the balance of a knife, fork and spoon. When the tip of a finger is placed under the shank of a spoon, for example, there should be perfect balance between the handle and bowl.

Be sure to compare the finish and workmanship of each individual piece. One of the main differences between quality and ordinary sterling is the skill and time put into the finishing touches of each piece.

Lamps and Shades Give Home a Lift

One of the easiest and most inexpensive ways to give your home a decorative lift for spring is through the selection of new lamp shades or lamps.

New, are three dressmaker skirt shades of rayon taffeta which can be snapped off for laundering. If you are buying lamps for spring and summer use only, consider a light airy filigreed effect; also, planter lamps of all types are especially good for this season.

A particular wise selection for new shades would be the parchment type which, because of its translucence, sheds an abundance of light and can be had in a stimulating array of colors. Another good choice would be the paper shades which are low priced and come in vibrant floral prints; many in this category imitate fabric beautifully, if you prefer this effect.

Remember too, during spring cleaning time to remove all traces of dirt and soil from glass or china lamp bases with a damp cloth. A good dusting with a dry cloth will clean metal bases for they have been treated with a coat of protective lacquer.

Many Arabs and Jews grow beards out of deference to church law.

APPEALING SPRING fashions are the identical designs for mother and daughter. Here, mother and daughter wear suits of popular linen in contrasting color combinations. Mother wears a copper jacket and pale blue skirt. Daughter's jacket is blue, her skirt, copper. Tootal fabric.

Modern Home Floor Coverings Produced by Science Magic

The wizards of modern chemistry will be greatly responsible for many new floor covering this year.

After years of experiment, all-rayons, rayon-and-cotton and rayon-and-wool mixture carpetings have come out of the test tube for Spring re-decorating in textures and a great variety of patterns and shades.

For home decorators with a special decor in mind, man-made fibre carpetings include patterns with distinctively handcrafted looks for provincial rooms; modern, abstract and geometric designs for the modern home and an abundance of leaf, scroll and swirl motifs in the season's best colors, such as olive greens, tawny tones and browns for the traditional-minded rug buyer.

Many modern floor coverings are subjected to severe tests before they are put into the market, in order to make sure that wearability is up to standards set by their manufacturers.

Pastel Hues Tops for Ties

Color and more color in bright clear "jewel-tones" on soft pastel backgrounds is the clue to new spring neckwear according to the Men's Tie Foundation.

Multi-tones in striking and unusual superimposed colors and designs echo the new freshness of spring with such rare combinations as mistblue with navy and scarlet, toast with pottery

Fun in the Sun With Sun Glasses

Sun fun minus the squint, plus definite fashion appeal is promised for ultra violet devotees this spring and summer.

Sun glass manufacturers have come up with several lens refinements and new frame designs.

A pair of glasses currently available allows the wearer to control brightness by rotating the lenses with a small metal tab. Another plastic framed pair curves uniquely to fit the brow, has built-in visors for extra protection and fashion interest.

Extra wide frames with slotted temples for scarves turn up in many of the season's new models, with a variety of colors provided.

Hand painted ties, once confined to the plush purse, but now priced to fit any size budget, will run rampant in color and design from the geometrics to Hawaiian sunsets.

Further evidence that spring ties will be bright and gay is the introduction of a new luminous silk, fluorescently treated, giving a shiny jewel-like sparkle to the fabric that glows in the dark.

Spring neckwear will be seen in rich new fabrics, jacquards, foulards, corded silks, reys, wovens, satins and crisp new rayons from American and foreign mills. Every sport has a tie to go with... Lightweight wool challis ties, patterned with clever sports symbols, team up wonderfully with odd jackets and are doubly pleasing because they shake out their wrinkles so quickly.

Another new look in neckwear is the bow tie made in narrow width with square ends.

SHADES OF the pony express! A pony-skin pattern shirt of broadcloth with cowboy touches that include western fringe along the yoke and contrast piping. Sturdyboy shirt.

els, with a variety of colors provided. GIVE 'EM A DIP. Collars and cuffs should be

Fashions Are More Versatile For Both Dresses and Suits

The fashion silhouette is narrow this spring of 1951, enhanced with a wealth of eye-compelling details and softening style points that give an over-all air of new and lovely femininity.

Important too, is the dramatic combination of American and French design evident in the new fashion picture.

Strictly U. S. A. are the new season fashions designed to go many places and do many things with just a change of jacket or skirt. Strong and spicy is the tang of "originated in France" as is evidenced in tunics, the trumpet silhouette and oblique lines.

A silky look to dresses, suits and coats, with many of the same fabrics such as pure silk, ottomans, faille and taffetas used in all three types of apparel, the glitter of jeweled buttons and the Spanish-mannered elegance of braid and satin trims produces in grand combination, a real dress-up season.

Dresses are more versatile than ever and come with their own coats in either matching outer fabrics or linings; with jackets that remove to reveal dinner-time baretops; with boleros that hug or button to insure cover-up of a dress meant for another hour and another mood.

3-Piece Suits

Suits offer limitless possibilities for variation styled with weekkits and a choice of two contrasting jackets or skirts; when they have their own jaunty matching or contrasting top; two handy skirts or their own blouse in a crisp solid, striped or printed fabric.

Coats, too, are prepared to complement every occasion from travel to dance time. The narrow loose cut, most popular style of spring '51, may be worn over sheath dresses, tossed over the shoulders of needle-slim suits, and travel with ease between town and country.

The trumpet silhouette, foremost of the French signature in spring fashions, is featured all-around-the-hem of dresses, or only at the back, at one side or at the center-front. It is reflected in suit skirts and interpreted with pleats all-around-the-hemline or in gores that widen below the knees. The fitted coat looks new too with the low fullness of the trumpet silhouette.

Paris Imports

Offering more of the straight-from-France suggestion to newest fashions are tunics. Detachable tunics suggestions of hipline tunic coverage are used extensively on spring dresses.

Tunic jackets are prevalent in new suit designs. Sometimes they appear only as an effect in the 28-inch jacket, in other instances, the tunic jacket is 32-inches long and straight in line with the tube-slim skirt.

Once more, the tunic shows its importance in the three-quarter coat of lightweight wool or a sheer, that may be worn belted and bloused or full length and loose, with the belt removed, as a dress.

Oblique lines, another important French import, appear fresh and new for spring in side-swept panels and puffs, huge pockets and even diagonally set necklines and collars on dresses, suits and coats as well.

The silky look, so predominant this spring, heralds the return of pure silk as a major spring fashion fabric.

For chilly early spring days,

THE "NAKED shoe" tells an important fashion news story for spring. Shown, a swirl of leather tipping the shoes, barely crossing the vamp to swing around the ankle.

Spring Shoes In Contrasts

The influence of the narrow silhouette, the bareback-bare-arm look, many softening details and the return of real silk to fashions for spring '51 is strong-like-real jeweled buttons, placed geometrically or helter-skelter, heightening the dressy effect of fashions and making a dramatic accent mark on many of the dresses, coats and suits with the silken look.

Shorter Sleeves

The Spanish manner, too, helps spring fashion's gala entrance. For in keeping with the lands where the castanets click, braids and satin trims are resplendent on lapels, closings, pocket edges and also serve to sharpen detail or to emphasize a straight line.

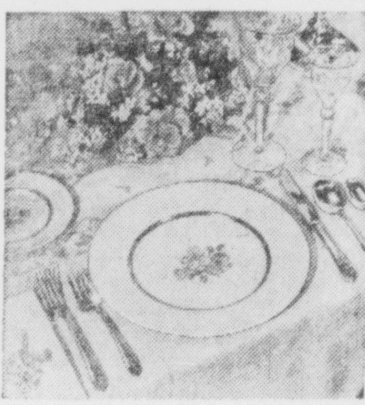

Because it's a more gentle and more feminine spring than for seasons past, there are bloused sleeves on coats, trim bracelet and push-up sleeves on suits and dresses and a predominance of non-existent and merest suggestion-of-a sleeve dresses.

Coat and suit necklines boast attached scarfs and stoles instead of collars or come in a simple cardigan style awaiting your own individualized choice of a blouse with a pert lady-like bow that will peep out above your neckline; and dresses have deep-cut square necklines, Vee and scooped-out necklines and beloved sweetheart necklines.

worsted-and-silk mixtures achieve the silken look in coats. For later and warmer weather, coats will be featured in a variety of crisp taffetas, moires and ottomans. Suits follow through in all-rayons that are perfect for 'round the year wear, and in dressier versions of taffeta, faille, moire and ottoman.

The pure silk dress, long the choice of best dressed women, makes a magnificent return in prints, fine shantung, surahs and taffetas for daytime wear; and in the sheer silks such as silk chiffon, lace and organdie for more formal occasions.

The new glitter in spring 1951 emanates from dazzling, just-

Sandals, consisting almost entirely of thin sliver straps, provide important fashion interest. Pumps, too, are open and often ornamented with interlaced in-step straps or double and fake shells for a bare outlook.

Navy blue, prime spring color, returns to top popularity in 1951. White, a prevalent background in so many new dress prints, makes the black and white story, and either separately or together is a "must" for every wardrobe. Vivid clear reds stand out as the important bright color of the new season, while pale neutrals, ombre colors and vivid pastels help to add a provocative new note to spring footwear.

Smooth kid and calf with the perennial spring favorite, patent leather, are foremost leather fashions. Suede ornamented with pleating, stitching and contrasts serves as the focal point for surface interest.

Slim Silhouette and Gay Colors Mark Fashions for Girls

Spring Styles Like Those of Big Sisters

Taking their cue from big sister, the teen set is dressing up for spring in slim silhouette, gay colored fashions.

Suits, the fashion star of a teen's wardrobe, are slim in line and even when paired with a boxy jacket are usually kept pared down to a slender silhouette.

New coats are narrowed as are both casual and dressy frocks that have only a slight skirt fullness accomplished with pleats or gentle gathers to achieve a "young girl" look.

Spring Checks

Exciting new colors and color combinations give added zest to teen set spring fashions. Grey flannel, light grey for suits and a darker shade for coats, takes first place in the teens' fashion picture, while checks, in all dimensions and color combinations, carry over their huge popularity from last season.

Also to be seen in the rainbow of young fashions is delicate mauve, featured most often, along with other pastels for fleece topers. Navy takes on many hues. Sometimes it is light toned, sometimes it is almost black and is most effective when costumed with pale pink collar and cuffs, a red lining or sparkling white piping.

There is an unlimited number of bright fabrics for teen-agers this spring. Monotone tweeds and flannels are often used as a basis for contrast with fancy weave fabrics in suit and sportswear ensembles.

Crisp Fabrics

Rayons, alone or in gabardine and wool mixtures, abound and serve in suits designed for year 'round wear. Taffetas, failles and ottomans, again in rayon or pure silk, used for reversible coats, toppers and suits as well as for dresses, promise to become huge successes with the teen crowd.

Cotton, always a young favorite, is sleek as can be in a new satin finish. Cool and gay in a variety of weaves such as chambray, gingham, organza, pique and Pima cloth.

Directly from big sister's wardrobe come ideas for teen-ager's suits. For instance, newest in the fashion picture are the three-piece ensembles that include a striping slim skirt, a molded jacket and over all, a jaunty square matching topper.

Modified tunic suits make fashion news for the teen-ager, as do suits with short little box jackets and suits with gently padded hip-lines.

Following big sister's fashion trends again, the teen-ager's new spring coat has carefully controlled back fullness. Often it is straight in a box silhouette or a mandarin style that eliminates the use of a collar.

Controlled Flare

Little shorty coats are straight-backed, pert with pockets and buttons placed in eye-catching positions. And even pyramid coats have control applied to their generous dimensions.

Lavish amounts of lace accent the teen-ager's spring dresses. Imported, eyelets and fish net types can all be found on crisp cottons and sheers.

For important dates, there are ever-so-feminine sheers in colorful plaids, checks and small floral prints fashioned into redingote ensembles, filmy jackets, ro-

Spring Gaiety In Girls' Hats

Teen-agers select pert little hats of trim lines and gay colors, this spring, trimmed with ribbon and only the most discreet little flowers. But they follow right along with their elders in choosing new silhouettes and colorful straws.

The teen-ager's favorite cloche may be fashioned of bright shiny straw and trimmed with pique cording on a narrow pique brim. It may be fashioned of checked taffeta or cotton, trimmed with a button atop the sectioned crown or a jaunty bow.

Sometimes it takes on bonnet contours, with a softly rippled brim, a velvet band and a few small blossoms at each side of the crown or dangling on brief ribbon streamers. Or the bonnet may blend with the beret to become a smart level-headed silhouette with a cushion brim and a chin-tied veiling trim.

For casual wear this spring, teen-agers like felt hats as well as straw. The dashing mannish "swagger" hat with a creased crown, soft brim and saucy little feather brush in its band, or the little derby that sits straight atop well-brushed bobs, is quite likely to be fashioned of felt.

Young charmers particularly like the soft white wine, nougat, butter yellow, lime and tangerine shades that are so feminine in contrast to the mannish-tyled felts.

RED NEWS

Bright red linings are a colorful addition to teens' spring coat, suit and topper fashions.

dinner jackets as comfortable as sports jackets.

The boiled shirt with its "card board" front and stiff wing collar is definitely passe. Most of the formal shirts worn today are fashioned with soft collars and soft pleated fronts.

Maroon bow ties and the increasingly popular plaids, are worn with matching cummerbunds and are much desired by younger party-goers. The classic however, is still black or midnight blue.

Late spring and summer formal evening weddings still demand full dress for members of the bridal party; white tie and tails with wing collar and a starched long bosom dress shirt, although

Shopping Advice For the Women

Warning to women! Preface your tie shopping for males with this quick refresher course in necktie choosing from expert Brooke Cadwallader. Here are his tips:

1. Avoid the necktie that is just "loud." A man may want to express himself but not billboard fashion.
2. Try to remember that most suits are blue, grey or brown. Don't buy a tie that won't harmonize with any of these colors.
3. Avoid buying neckwear that is too short. No cravat should measure less than 51 inches.
4. Don't just grab any tie. Give tie selection the thought and consideration you give all other gifts.
5. Remember that this year the neat compact pattern on a medium dark ground is considered smartest.

guests are turning increasingly to the tuxedo.

Warm weather weddings held in the afternoon call for the cut-away with striped trousers or the dashing stroller coat, also worn with formal striped trousers.

Rainbow Hues Featured in Girls' Styles

There's a rainbow of color at a teen's feet this Spring. For vivid, bright reds, orange, purples, flower yellows, soft corals and all of the blonde shades are blooming out in footwear for the new season.

And what a wonderful variety of styles and fabrics are featured in these many colors.

For instance, the classic of classics, the spectator pump, is newer than ever in all-over combination of black and white, Queen of Hearts red, in striking in navy and white and even in a gay duet of a contrasting color fabric dot applied onto a smooth fabric surface.

Dressy flats, so adored by the teen-agers, are airy as can be with multi-strap, open-heel and side styling. And the warmer the weather, the brighter the color for these dress-up shoes.

Shoes to accompany her spring suits and tailored separates are featured with narrow wedge heels and made of smooth, sleek leathers.

For playtime emphasis is also placed on color and airy design. Open-back, open-side shoes and even classic moccasins (newest when backless) can be seen in vivid off-white, beige, yellow orange, turquoise and pink.

Most fad-provoking idea of the season is to mix-match brightly

Home Is Not Forgotten In Spring Opening Here

The old homestead can't very well get in the Easter parade, but it can stand on the sidelines and should not be overlooked.

Come spring, with its housecleaning, it's only logical that the home should come in for its brightening, too.

Styles don't change too much, it's true, but there is nothing like a fresh coat of paint for the outside for all to see, a refinishing job on the woodwork inside for your friends or bright, gay paper on the walls.

It all goes with the new furniture and brickwork, the new rugs and carpets and the personal spring finery of the occupants.

Most of the stores in Washington C. H., where paint and house furnishings are sold, have made big preparations for the coming of spring. Paint and wallpaper stocks have been built up and plans for redecorating and suggestions for harmonizing color schemes are there for the asking.

This Is Nothing New

This thing of sprucing up the home for spring is not new; in fact, it's as old as housekeeping; it's just a natural change-over from the way of life in winter to that of summer. It's the traditional way to wipe away the smudges of winter's accumulation of dinginess and gloom.

But there's more to planning the home-brightening than merely selecting the color and arranging with the painter to do the work.

Every home owner would be money ahead—and at the same time save worry and aggravation—by making sure the paint selected has quality as well as harmonizing colors.

It's axiomatic that cheap paint can be expensive in the long run. Paint dealers here say they have made a point of insisting on quality, getting the kind of paint that won't peel or scale off under the attacks of weather. They also make it plain that the paints they offer for interior work won't get dull and dingy.

And, while you're thinking of brightening up the home with paint and wallpaper, there's something new that should not be left out in planning home decorations and arrangements.

Television Included

Television, you know, is here to stay . . . and that means that television sets are coming to be a part of home furniture as much as the armchair and the reading lamp. And, most housewives—and husbands, too, for that matter—are planning their living room arrangements to fit in with the television set, whether it be one of the big cabinet models or the small table model.

Not many years ago, television was a curiosity in Washington C. H. Only a few appliance stores carried them in stock, and then only a few.

But, it's different now. There are dozens of stores which have a wide range of television and radio sets; from their lines there is a design that could fit into nearly every conceivable room arrangement.

These stores, the proprietors and managers say, have been stocked with the latest thing in TV to make the spring home dress-up easier. They all incorporate the latest devices, many of them with a view to the color TV changeover.

Yes, the spring openings now taking form in the Washington C. H. stores include the old homestead as a part of the Easter parade.

Plastic Table Mats

Home Homemade Look

A new plastic table place mat has the look of handmade hemp types. It is embossed with a three-dimensional surface and is said to resist wrinkling and cracking.

The new mats come with matching coasters in a geometric leaf design. Both have been treated to resist flame and boiling water, staining, discoloring and tearing.

A HANDBAG and belt ensemble to team with new dresses and suits. Both of washable, three-dimensional effect Vinylite plastic.

NUMBER ONE fashion news in men's spring shoes is the slip-on that fits the foot by means of goring or elastic insets. Shown, brushed leather with smooth leather slip-on, side finger gores. Popular Shoe Manufacturers.

Fabrics Have Moods For Every Occasion

New fabrics take on moods as exciting and varied as the new season itself.

Some have faces rugged and fresh as saplings with tiny green leaves. Others are smooth and silky as a just-cropped lawn after a rainstorm. Some have as many outlooks as there are spring flowers. An others come in from across the sea with an air as refreshing as the sound of the wind's first caress of leaf-dressed trees.

Suit and coat fabrics have nublier, slubbier weaves inviting the contrast of smooth silks and crisp taffetas. There are new sport jerseys with novel open work patterns and boucles that are wondrous to the touch as they are to the look. The warm hues of rich fleeces and smooth suedes make scintillating fashion news too.

Supple, thick, stiff or thin, it's silk and the silken-look that leads the way for dresses this season. Silk taffetas, silk organdies, luxurious pure silk prints, crepey silks all are included in the world of silk new dresses live in.

And right along with this luxurious fabric are complementary touches of velvet, self-color and contrasting braid and ball fringe.

New Cosmetic Kits Light and Compact

Cosmetics travel light and safe in a compact kit made of Vinylite plastic.

The kit contains two bottles and two jars, also of plastic, to allow easy transfer of both cream and liquid cosmetics and toiletries into them for traveling purposes.

Girls Look Cuter than Ever If They Watch Their Grooming

Make the most of what you have! That's what Teen Agers all over the country are being advised by leading beauty counselors.

A hair style which is becoming, lipstick and rouge judiciously applied and above all scrupulous cleanliness will combine to work miracles in changing you from the-girl-you-are to the-girl-you'd-like-to-be.

Every night prepare your skin for tomorrow's fun by applying cold cream to your face, is the advice given by Mary Stuyvesant, one of the counselors.

Twice Clean

Pat it on vigorously, and when you've removed all that left-over make-up and grime with tissues, cream again in little spiral swirls. It's that "twice-clean" look that makes the difference.

For the oily skinned girl, or the one troubled by "bumps," frequent soap and water cleansups are a must, along with makeup whisked off with a liquefying cream, while her dry skinned sister should make use of a good dry skin cream.

An all-in-one foundation and powder is the simplest type of make-up for a young face. First of all there's no mess, nor streaks and the "mat" finish you'll end up with will please the Mom who still worries about what she calls a "made-up" look.

Rouge is strictly a personal matter. If there's natural color to your skin, you're lucky. If not, add it sparingly.

Don't Patch

A "start from scratch" routine holds for your lips. Patching up won't do here it all. And if you want your lipstick to say with you through any number of hamburgers and cokes, blot them off, then dust them lightly with powder, and apply a second coat of lipstick.

And now you're finished. A final glance in the mirror to be sure all is well and we hope your beau will think you look as pretty as we do.

Flannel in Spring Has Fresh Look

Flannel is the fabric talking point of fashion this spring of 1951. In suits, suit ensembles and coats it achieves a spanking fresh and new effect.

Spring colors in flannel are lighter than for previous seasons. Pearly grey is most popular with stone blue a close follow-up. Beige flannel is also to be seen with a rosy or golden cast, as is heather, navy and sparkling white. Tone-on-tone combinations appear primarily as dark insets worked onto lighter tone suits; bodice and hip strappings, collars, pockets, edging, buttons, bibs and yokes all providing darker tone accents.

Solid and chalk stripe flannel helps re-introduce man-tailored suits to the fashion scene.

Sports Wear For Men Has Cooled Feel

It looks like a great season ahead for sportswear. Every kind of leisure-time clothing for men is branching out in new variety and with new comfort features.

Increased porosity and lightweight construction are keynotes of 1951 sportswear designs. And the spring and summer innovations that will interest every man include sheer sport shirts, odd jackets with featherweight construction, new tailoring ideas in shorts, more comfortable waistband treatment in slacks and color variety in all types of sportswear.

The spring season jackets are designed in lightweight wool and worsted fabrics that have little shoulder padding and more natural body lines.

Another contribution furnishes flannel blazer in authentic Scottish clan patterns. These gave a new color interest, the tartan welcome lift to the solid tone slacks or shorts which men are favoring.

The emphasis on slack design is definitely on comfort, with such things as shirred-elastic waistbands and other treatments that require no belt.

Style scouts say that men are finally ready to be comfortable in the gentler seasons by wearing walking or play shorts for golf, tennis, mowing the lawn or just loafing. The new shorts come in a big selection of plain color fabrics, fine woolen or worsted flannels and gabardines that look like a million with the gay-colored, all-over pattern sport shirts that are slated as style leaders for spring.

Sport shirts for the coming season have shorter collars that will be welcomed by many men who shunned the former long-collared vogue. Great popularity is also expected for the new variety of woven pullover shirts which have gained acceptance steadily over the past two seasons. Pattern choices for Spring range from soft, clear pastels to small stripes and checks.

DROP THAT GLOVE!

When washing leather gloves, such as doeskin and chamois, do not put them on your hands. Wash them in warm sudsy water and rinse in soapy water. Then, while they are still damp, put them on and soften with your fingers.

Furniture Designed To Travel In or Out

There's a growing trend to use "garden" furnishings not only outdoors, but in dinettes and playrooms, but even for year around use in formal living rooms, bedrooms and hallways.

Wrought iron now appears in headboards for the bed, night tables, mirror frames and dual purpose low tables that become stools when cushioned.

Furniture made with canvas, sailcloth, heavy Army duck or webbing materials comes in streamlined indoor designs that wear and wash well.

Even wicker, reed and rattan have been given contemporary treatment with new attention paid to assuring the serviceability of upholstery.

Skirts Go Shorter On Spring Formal

The shorter length formal for spring is an accepted part of your gala occasion wardrobe.

It appears in many glamorous guises: exotic sheers such as organzas and chiffons over special net and crisp taffeta petticoats; all lace styles, some rhinestone trimmed and rustling taffetas in exciting grey and apricot colors.

Many of the new shorter length dance dresses have matching stoles and some even have fur trims adding to their elegance.

Colors of Garden-freshness Are In Favor For This Spring

Spring fashions are bursting out in colors that might easily have been plucked from your favorite garden.

Colors are gentle. Colors are muted. Prints are subtle, such as the tiny plaids, the diminutive checks, the florals and geometrics that are artful minute-size tracteries and the stripes, here again, but ever so delicately crayed in.

Topper-length Coats Popular

Pyramid and Tuxedo Styles Featured

Coats are slim. Coats are straight. Coats are gently tempered with a wealth of new detailing in keeping with the all-over silhouette for spring '51.

The barrel briefer, the pyramid, the tuxedo-front full-length, the fitted coat and the tunic-topper lead the coat fashion parade for spring. With tiny shoulders, obviously pared-down cuts and careful proportioning emphasizing the fashion - desired narrow lines on the full-cut of these coats such as the barrel topper and the pyramid.

Scarves, necklines, big convertible collars interpreted with noticeable revers and shoulder capelets act as important and new softening influences on many of spring's coats.

These necklines and collars combine in a striking effect with huge bell - bloused, push - up sleeves or full bracelet-length complete the effect of softness and dramatized femininity of the new season, there are side wrap closings, obliquely placed buttons and even diagonally slanted revers. As well as the surprise element of linings that range from vivid red silk organ-die to gay striped taffeta and printed silks.

Dress To Go Many Places This Year

One dress for informal daytime wear. The same dress for gala evening events. It's as much fun as magic and it's the key fashion of spring '51.

It may be a dress with a tiny bolero or snug-fitting jacket that when removed reveals a gay print blouse top. Or it may be a dress with a suit outlook, in a formal fabric such as faille or pure silk with, 'neath the jacket, a baretop bodice of lavish lace.

Or it may even be a cheerful cotton dress you'll wear with its jacket or bolero top for morning shopping and by doffing the jacket later in the day reveal a dress perfect for sunning or dancing.

SANDALS WITH a casual theme for leisure days. Above, thongless thongs with a flat wedge. White suede and kid. J&J Slater.

Yes, over all colors reign as delightful reflections of every sweet spring bloom from the deepest of blue iris to the most delicate of daffodil yellow.

Navy Again

It's navy, of course, as the leader for suits, for dresses, for pert and short toppers, to be foiled by the sparkle of white at your throat, at your wrists, on your head. Whether it's a deep black navy or a sparkling blue navy will depend upon your own taste, but all shades of navy are here and ready for active spring fashion maneuvers.

Greyed blue, lighter than royal, darker than pastel blue is coming into spring prominence. It may be seen in gala prints, as a soft overcheck, as a pretty spring hat. And again, sparkling white acts as the perfect accent-note.

Your dresses and your suits will boast that most prized of all spring flowers, the violet in tones that range from the very deep to the very delicate. And what more dramatic contrast than the addition of smoldering copper or flaming orange to this strength-inviting shade.

Grey in patterns, grey in lustrous pearl tones, this is how you will find that ever-popular shade of spring this year. Lighter in tone than last year's suits and coats but nevertheless here and ready to take its place as one of the leaders of the season.

Team Grey

Beige, considerate neutral tone for the radiant spread of spring color, looks its most important when styled as a suit or a coat and coupled with a strong partner which could be star-of-the-season navy or fresh-as-the-grass green or even dazzling and gay yellow.

And this is not all, for there are other colors to appeal to every taste and imagination. There are toasty browns, corally reds, soft melons, electric aquas and touches of gold. So prepare to enter spring in color and enter it in the color you love best!

Home Appliances May Do Double Duty

Electrical appliances come in for a double share of thanks for keeping hot weather life in the kitchen cool and comfortable and at the same time providing really refreshing and tasty meals.

For example, every family needs at least one hot meal a day, a supply of frozen foods prepared in cooler weather or bought packaged at the corner grocery and stored in the food freezer or freezer compartment of the refrigerator will be readily available for in-a-jiffy meals.

Electrical cooking is another way to keep cooler. Plan one-pan meals that will use only one unit on your range. If you don't have an electric range, use smaller appliances such as the electric roaster, the sandwich grill and the waffle iron.

Having cooling-off parties with the refreshments prepared with the aid of a blender that does everything from ice crushing to liquefying juices. Or use a plug-in beater to ready-up a chill whipped cream topping or home-made ice cream in minutes flat.

Then to keep your kitchen clear and cool, use that "old reliable," the electric fan. It will keep the air circulating and if you get it in portable form it can be moved around to summer-hot bedrooms and the living room, too.

DRY CLOTHES FIRST
Starched clothes iron better if allowed to dry thoroughly before being sprinkled.

Clean Windows To Greet Spring

Pretty Dressings Are Easy To Tend

Spring cleaning starts many a housewife wishing for window glamor. And smart homemakers are achieving it nowadays with new window accessories that combine beauty and durability with a lap-of-luxury look, at far from luxury prices.

A wide range of drapery fabrics; a gamut of shades in washable materials; and some striking new window blind ideas now make it possible to enliven dull and dingy window settings with a decorator's touch.

Textured Drapes

Soot-battling city dwellers will rejoice over new fabric-patterned and textured plastic drapes with sheer plastic curtains, that take kindly to soap and water. Equally attractive and tubbable are satin-finish cotton drapes that can be washed many times over without losing their brand-new luster.

For the really modern-minded, there's an intriguing new drapery available. Made of closely-joined wood strips, it drapes like cloth, comes in many colors, and finishes off a contemporary room to perfection.

The plain old window-shade has come in for a considerable face-lifting. It can now be had in gay all-over prints on washable cloth and plastic; in perforated fabric that admits light and air while preserving privacy; and in closely-bound wood strip "cloth" that lends itself to hand decoration. Manufacturers of the perforated shade suggest it as an effective backdrop for lacy curtains.

An attractive window-covering for a child's room is a nursery-patterned luminescent shade that gives off a reassuring night time glow.

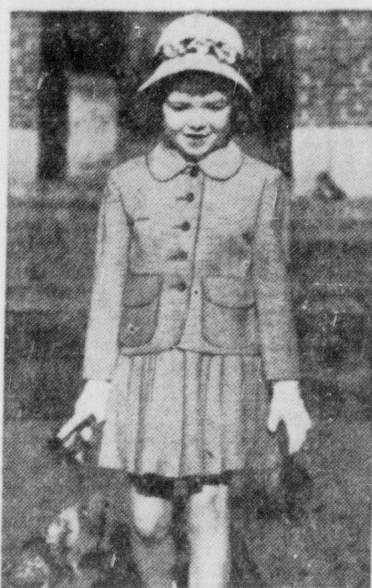

Bamboo Blinds

New twists to blinds, Venetian and otherwise, make them more attractive than ever as sole window treatments. At an extra large window, an unbroken expanse of Venetian blind can be effectively patterned by the use of contrasting second-color slats. These slats cross the lengthwise matching tapes at six-or-eight space intervals to form a pattern of rectangles that emphasizes window size yet strikingly relieves the monotony of a single unbroken area.

Bamboo blinds, for which decorators are finding more and more use, are now being fitted with spring rollers on which they can be rolled up and down as easily as conventional shades.

Interesting window settings can make a room doubly inviting, and homemakers with decorating problems will find some exciting and imaginative solutions in these window-decor innovations.

Women are not allowed to vote in Mexico.

FROM TOMBOY to young lady, especially for spring. This brown and white checked worsted-type rayon suit styled like Big Sister's is one way to achieve the desired effect. Avisco fabric.

Keep Slender To Be in Style

The narrow silhouette featured for new spring fashions calls for a slim, non-bulging figure. And foundation makers have answered this need with girdles, corsets and corselets designed to smooth and control your figure efficiently.

Foremost are the corselets and high waisted girdles constructed with special straight hip features for a long, unbroken figure line. In many instances boning is eliminated completely and elastic reinforcements or inner elastic bands are substituted.

Also popular for wear beneath new sheath dresses are four-section girdles with side panels of a rigid material or a one-way stretch satin elastic.

Juniors, too, who want to insure a smooth, well-controlled effect for their new fashion choices are being kept in mind with foundations that have re-side and adequately provide that wanted control.

Rollaway Bed Good In the Play Room

A rollaway cot or two tucked in the closet will supply the makings for a comfortable, impromptu guest room in new smaller homes and apartments.

Newest rollaways have a center coil section for better support of the heaviest part of the body and are equipped with good inner-spring mattresses.

Many homemakers use their rollaways for a lounge in dens, recreation rooms or sun porches. Slipcovered and lined with pillows or bolsters, they provide comfortable seating space.

Approximately 65 percent of the country's telephones are now dial operated out of an overall total of 40,000,000.

Help Your Scarf To Provide Variety

Get Novel Effect Tying It New Way

Wear your scarf everywhere this spring, and wear it with flair. That's the dictum of Dame Fashion, who's made scarves very much a part of this year's accessory picture.

Use a scarf with ingenuity to ring neckline changes on a basic dress. Try it tied in a bright bow, or knotted about your neck, one dangling end swept back and caught with a pin at your shoulder.

Wrap It

Wear a scarf as an ascot in a low neckline, fastened with a glitter pin. Wrap a scarf or Mexican reboso stolewise about your shoulders for day or evening wear.

Cinch your waist with a kerchief. Good fashion is to wear it sash-style on a basic dress, ends dangling as fobs for scatter pins. Weave it with a self belt on a skirt or dress. Tie it as a belt, ends tucked in.

Ribbon Style

Put a scarf on your head. The newest way is ballerina style, across your hair like a wide ribbon, ends tied in back. Try a chignon or a snood if your hair is growing longer.

Bind your wrist with a tiny kerchief as color backdrop for a series of bangle bracelets. Let a scarf peep from your hip or shoulder pocket.

A scarf this year puts the final fillip on your day or evening ensemble! Don't be shy of wearing it with a flourish.

Nylon Trousseau Proves Practical

With the accent these days on travel, particularly for the young bride whose groom is being whisked off for training to far places by Uncle Sam, a wardrobe that is a good traveler is a must!

Instead of the many night-gowns, slips, bras, girdles, hose and negligees she formerly required, today's bride can travel easily and adequately with one nylon garment of each, suggests David Lewis, nylon authority.

And she need make no sacrifice to style. Because no matter what her preference she'll find it in nylon.

And no matter where the young bride stops the night, she can dip her undies up and down in a washbasin, hand them up to dry on a towel rack and, by the time she's ready to dress, they're all set and ready to go, generally without ironing.

SPANISH ACCENT

Toreador Pants promise to be the talk of the teens. They are pedal pusher length trousers with a new fitted look that often laces tight just below the knee.

Colors Good For Girls in Spring Styles

Teens, ever anxious to embrace gay new fashions, are given ample opportunity this season by casual-wear makers who cater to teen needs and sizes.

Red, white and navigator blue sing out as the featured color on most sportswear, whether it's a cotton shirt, blouse and stole ensemble or a shirt, slack and jacket set.

Yes, slacks are back and ready for team-up action with checked or plaid cotton shirts that are accented with giant white bibs and with the handsome new leather and suede jackets.

For square dancing and casual warm-weather dates, there are splashy print cotton and blouse ensembles. Following the way of fashions for Spring '51, some of the skirts are slim as reeds, some are simple-to-don tie-on styles. The blouses may have a peasant, off-shoulder look or trimly tailored and sleeveless with a Peter Pan collar.

Dyed-to-match outfits in new raspberry, mint, maize and gold hues appear in pure linens, shantung and cottons. These may include a slim-line skirt, a sleeveless blouse-top and a three-quarter sleeve cardigan sweater.

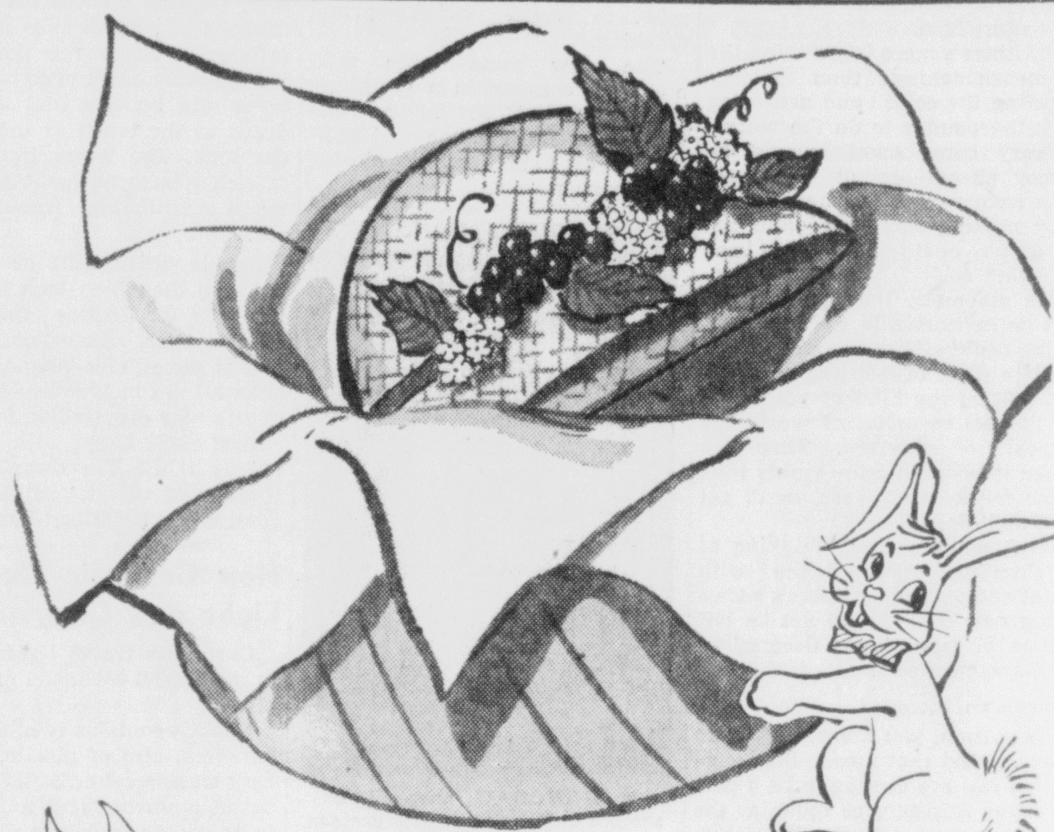

MAKE 'EM LARGER
To make a room look larger, paint the walls a light color. Be practical, too, and choose paint that is truly soap-and-water washable.

Fashions Feature Slim Lines

Your new spring suit has a finely tailored look with attention focused on detailing and trim neatness.

From shoulder to hem it is slim in line, relieved, this season, of its severity by a gently arched neckline, novel and eye-compelling detailing and a soft or silky-appearing fabric.

Jacket lengths are approximately an inch longer than last season with emphasis on the tunic style, often 31-inches long and cut in almost a straight line with your slim skirt. Other, softer versions shorter and have fullness below the waistline.

Man Tailored

Back in fashion's favor is the man-tailored suit. The one-button style predominates, but unlike past years, the new version is softened by feminine collar and pocket detail.

Tiny peplums on the sides, center front and back of fitted jackets can be seen adding flattering accent to the arched hip-line look.

Outstanding versions include a circle peplum which is placed at each side of the hipline, a peplum that stands away from the jacket and often contains pockets, the apron peplum which appears in the center front of the jacket and the fishtail peplum, placed at the front of a cutaway jacket.

The 3 and 4-piece suit is also due to become a spring fashion leader. It may have 2 jackets or 2 skirts plus a vest in matching or contrasting colors or patterns. It may be a neatly tailored suit complete with matching or contrasting jacket. It may be the 2-skirt suit or perhaps a suit with its own blouse in a solid, print or striped crisp fabric.

Oblique Accents

Asymmetric lines gain new dash for spring in necklines or hiplines which jut past the center line, in skirts and jackets that wrap to a side, in strapping or pockets that effect an oblique outlook by being placed at one yoke or one hip and by curved closings.

Refreshing fashion notes for new suits are the cardigan or collarless necklines which can be folded back into neat little lapels, the many scarfs and stoles either attached to suits or available separately in smart contrasting fabrics and colors, and the three-quarter or bracelet-length sleeves that relieve the most severe styles with a dress-maker touch.

Your skirt, of course, is narrow but easy to walk in due to kick pleats and the trumpet silhouette interpreted with pleats all around the hemline or gores which widen below the knees.

Other means of keeping suit skirts slim yet comfortable are with rows of back buttons, slits or tiny multiple pleats.

Flannel New

The soft fabrics that promise to be your primary choice in suits this spring feature flannel looking its newest in pearl grey and grey blue and its most sophisticated in light brown. Gabardine, ever your choice for spring, reigns once more and looks freshest in navy which is

Rayon Suits Due in Spring

The traditionally conservative male is taking to the new rayon spring suits as a child takes to candy. For, according to all predictions, rayon suits will be leaders this spring.

The business man who must look neat at all times, regardless of temperature changes, has found that rayon has just enough weight and wrinkle-resistance to keep him trim, well groomed and yet comfortable in warmer weather.

This is especially true of many older and more solid men who have found that spring weight rayons are the happy medium between too-warm heavier fabrics and the very light fabrics which tend to become wrinkled and bunched.

The fact that rayon suits are economical explains part of their fast growing popularity. Because rayons are priced lower than suits in other fibers, men feel they can afford more suits.

A wide choice of fabrics dyed with wonderfully clear colors, makes them a solid foundation for any business man's spring wardrobe. Rayon takes dye especially well and fabrics are being made in all the popular designs, glen plaids, hound's tooth checks, stripes, sharkskins and of course, the classic coverts and gabardines.

Wives like rayon suits because they are simple to care for. According to one of the leading producers of rayon yarn, a rayon suit should get the same kind of care as wool suit.

Many men find that because of rayon's smoother surface the suits do not soil as quickly and so need not be cleaned as often as rougher materials. And wives say that a rayon suit is easy to "touch up" with a home pressing.

WIRE THEM

Give your curtains controlled but dramatic flare by inserting pieces of formable wire in their hems.

also the number one color of the new season.

In the shimmering fabric families, silks and rayons are expected to take over. Silk taffeta, imported suitings with a surah texture, heavy-weight shantungs and faille and rayons in faille, taffeta and oxford carry their weight for spring in your more dressy dinner and theater suits.

The richness of these shimmering fabrics will be pronouncedly accented, in many instances with satin faced lapels.

Luggage Shaped For Convenience

A wide selection of new leathers and specialized shapes styled especially for various uses add a newsworthy not to the usually conservative luggage for men this season.

Belting leather, harness leather, water buffalo and even elegant ostrich are all now being utilized in the design of men's luggage, along with, of course, cowhide, the perennially favored luggage leather.

Many of the convenience-angled shapes introduced this season offer simplified, wrinkle-proof packing and as a result men's luggage may now be considered as specialized as women's with a case for every occasion.

A small in number but large in usages matched luggage set that follows this new trend for specialized cases might include just three pieces: a two-suitcase that holds two suits on hangers on one side of the case and accessories on the other; a one-suitcase which carries one suit and accessories; and a companion case large enough to comfortably hold overnight clothes.

Sleepwear Used Around the Clock

There's a gay-dreams sleeping combination for a junior's every bedtime mood this season.

There are pajamas with real double-duty shirt tops that come with or without sleeves and have short bottoms in navy, bright red or green that can also lead a double life.

For the gal who likes her sleepwear bare and brief there's a bra and shorts ensemble. The bra is designed with a winged top containing a built-in bra so it can be used for sunning as well as sleeping.

Also appealing are the increasingly popular three-piece ensembles.

First Impressions Often Count Most

So Give Hallway Extra-pretty Look

Let your imagination run riot and you can create a veritable jewel box out of an otherwise "Plain Jane" entrance to your home.

In redoing the floors, the Wallpaper Institute suggests one of those popular wall papers which create a third dimensional effect. A green and white block design would be impressive, besides giving the effect of architectural spaciousness. The wall paper will wear like iron if it is covered with approximately six coats of clear shellac.

Taking the cue from the floor, an excellent choice for the walls would be a scenic wall paper picking up tones that will harmonize with the green and white design. Green and coral would do nicely.

If your hall is narrow in any respect, the scenic is definitely your answer for this type of treatment pushes back the walls and creates the sensation of increased roominess.

Some place about your home, you may be able to resurrect a suitable table even though it bears all the ear-marks of hard wear. Wall paper can again come to the rescue. Simply cover the top with a handsome marbled paper with a washable finish, and you'll be amazed at the transformation that will occur.

With this basic plan outlined above as a springboard, you will want to add the little finishing touches that will create a "lived in" atmosphere. Maybe a smart lamp fresh hardy greens or some treasured knick-knack will be the answer.

Whatever plan you pursue, you're in for a real treat not only when redecorating the hallway, but more especially when viewing the finished product.

Solids and Prints In Real Silk Now

Pure silk returns to the fashion fold, this spring, in many guises and at modest prices.

Print, solid and sheer dresses are all featured in this luxury fabric, along with coats and boxy jacket lined in a silk print or plain and a wide selection of floral, geometric and striped blouses, some of which are part of a dress ensemble or a costume suit.

First speech by radio across both the American continent and across the Atlantic was accomplished in 1915.

Time Has Come To Get New Hat

Men's clothing generally is towards a more leisurely fit, and nowhere is that more true than in the hats offered for spring.

This spring men's hats have, for the most part, slightly narrower brims. This is mainly due to the extra taper to the crown, which this season's models are featuring.

Another thing is the wide selection that has been especially designed for wear with sports clothing. This variety of choice has been applied both in design as well as color.

To further insure comfort, one manufacturer has even designed his sport hats with holes in the hat and sweatband, thus allowing for more air circulation.

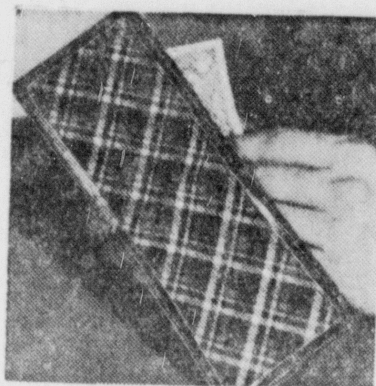

Men's sport caps will be more colorful than ever and have been made up in shantung, pongee, linen, gabardine and smartly patterned lightweight challis wool.

Men's Cosmetics Play Dual Role

Take a second look at the bottle, jar, or box that holds your man's shaving preparations. It may have an afterlife!

Eye-catching new packaging twists to familiar men's toiletry products are keeping containers in use nowadays long after their skin-soothing contents are gone. These attractive containers have a number of interesting decorative and functional possibilities.

To wit: there's a pottery-type after-shave lotion flask with a masculine motif that becomes a striking vase of ivy. An attractive men's gift set containing soap, talcum, cologne, lotion, and shaving mug lives a second life on his desk or dressing table as a handsome gadget box, the empty mug holding pencils, letter opener, and other miscellany.

TARTAN PLAIDS of the Scottish clans, making their appearance in all types of accessories, now decorate this wallet of goat-skin. By Hickok.

Furs with Long Hair Favored for Spring

The long hair furs are back for spring in small pieces that have straighter and narrower silhouettes, fashion-emphasized with asymmetrical closings and cardigan necklines.

Furs related to the costume, in color as well as silhouette, are also new for spring. A perfect example of this is deep brown mink used as an ascot tie on a toasty brown, collarless-jacket suit or a white ermine collarlet as color contrast for a navy blue suit or coat.

Thick, blond lynx, the fox family, from the inky black pelts to the platinum, as well as other in a variety of shades including honey-beige and navy blue are all to be found in this spring's fur selections.

Still in great fashion popularity are slim stoles and cape stoles, free-hanging stoles, pocketed stoles and stoles that tuck-in beneath the belt. Also to be seen are a large number of scarfs that may contain as few as two skins or as many as ten or twelve skins, worn in a cape-like effect.

Gloves Give Accent to Fashion And Brighten Up Ensembles

New accessories are designed to make you prettier this spring. And whether or not you are buying a complete new wardrobe, or making last season's do, you'll find dramatic accessories to make an ensemble from the simplest dress or suit.

Stoles, flowers, fabulous costume jewelry should all find a place in your accessories wardrobe along with gloves and hats, fashion's favorites for making you look pretty.

Accessories, this season have a lavish look to offset the slim, pared-down silhouette of most daytime clothes.

The polish of really fine leather gloves with a dressmaker look, emphasizes the new air of elegance. Longer gloves or short gloves with cuff and waist treatments make the most of a pretty bare arm and stress the great fashion importance of the shorter sleeve.

Longer gloves are kept slim

(to avoid bulk with the wide cuffs of many short-sleeved coats), but they are beautifully detailed and embroidered. Many doeskin gloves have inserts of drawn-work, a delicate embroidery usually seen only in fine linen, while French kid gloves have been embroidered with thin strands of leather.
